

Camille Jarvis

Camille Jarvis is a Utah native, being raised primarily in Orem. She is a graduate of both New England School of Law in Boston Massachusetts where she earned her Juris Doctor, focusing on family and juvenile law, and Utah Valley University, where she majored in behavioral sciences with a minor in criminal justice.

She has worked with youth in various capacities, including as a counselor at BYU sports camps, a life skills coach to inner city youth in Washington DC, and as a mentor and supervisor at Discovery Academy, a residential treatment facility. She is a licensed attorney in both Maryland and Utah and currently practices law in multiple fields, including family, juvenile, personal injury, corporate and business law.