Make Your Own Design Tee

A Contest To Design A Hyderhangout Tee Shirt.

Our Winner, Fallingwaters, with the winning design, above, and with the owner, Susan, and her First Place Prize, an Amy Bradley Tee Shirt, left.

From March 1 - March 31, 2011, Hyderhangout held a contest for all who love to draw and love to wear tees to design a Tee Shirt for the store. Everyone was eligible to enter.

Four entries were received and all won prizes! Our First Place winner was Fallingwaters with a design of a Sunflower and the slogan "Hang out with us at Hyderhangout." Other entrants were Wyleen J. Mya J., and Diane V.

Fallingwaters was very excited to win the contest. When asked about her design, she replied, "I just wanted to draw something that evoked the heart of what Hyderhangout is all about -- sunflowers and hanging out!"

Tees will be on sale soon!

All the tragedies of this past month have served to remind us of what is truly important: friends and family. I was deeply saddened by the loss of our dear quilt artist Wendy Murphy, which began the month. Then, we all heard that yet another independent quilt shop, Lavender & Lime, is a victim of this bad economy and is closing. Independent quilt shops are a breed of their own. I hate to see any of them close. Then, our area was hit by a horrific storm and a series of tornados. Far too much was lost by far too many. Our prayers go out to all the victims and especially Sew Be It quilt shop in Ringgold, GA. Godspeed on your rebuilding project.

We are here to help in any way we can. Do not hesitate to call on us.

-Susan Hyder

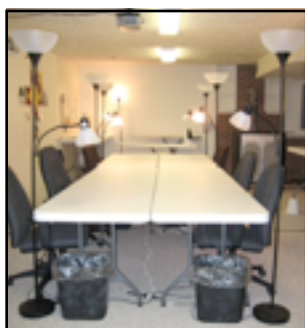

IN MEMORIAL: WENDY MURPHY

Gone but surely not forgotten is one of our own, Wendy Murphy. Wendy went home to be with the Lord unexpectedly early on the morning of April 05, 2011. An avid quilter and seamstress, Wendy had been preparing to teach a class on a Fabric Weaving technique at the time of her passing. Knowing how Wendy would want her quilters to know her techniques, Jackie Cory, one of our Instructors, taught the class in her place to several students two weeks after her death. Wendy loved to come to Sit N Sew every Thursday and work on her many projects. She was a fixture at Hyderhangout and will be sorely missed. Our condolences go out to her family.
