May – June

Spring Has Sprung

The next 2 months are packed with lots of things to do and be a part of. But before I get started I wish to talk about the Quilting Retreat we went to in April.

There were 8 of us 2 instructors and 6 quilters. When we arrived it was time to pack up our belonging into a cart to pull down to the sewing area and take them to our rooms. Most were already there but Ginger who came later. After lunch I went fishing a caught a 5 to 6 pound catfish which she let me keep. I was ready in time for our class at 3 pm. We made a purse called a Bucket Bag boy was that fun to make!! Thanks to Jackie our Instructor. I made 2 one is going to be a Christmas gift. The food was fantastic and the quilting that we accomplished was great. Susan was working on her Chinese lantern project which she placed on the wall getting advice on placing the pieces. Fran was the hostess with the mostest!!

We got a coupon and she would call out the # than we got to pick a bag with a gift inside and we had the option to keep it or roll the dice for fat quarters. The next day the group rode down to Moore's Discount Fabric which was fun. Susan taught about precuts and making potholders. All in all it was a great time.

Everyone working on their individual project as the night came on. Here are some photos from our time together!

Just a note about the grounds it is peaceful, she has a pond, goats, geese, donkey, and fish!!!! Even saw a turtle as well. It is located on a mountain far away from traffic, loud noise, and the city. Yes this is the place to go for a weekend Quilter’s dream and get away. She is the Iron Chef of the Country as I call her. I highly recommend going as there are 2 spots left to fill so get going and call to make your reservation now. Fran & I have a special treat planned for you on the July Retreat 13 – 15.

Here is her pond where I caught my catfish!

Coming in June Jackie will be teaching a Summer Youth Art Camp June 18 – 22 from Monday to Friday 10 am till 4 pm. This going to be for the kids as well as the young in heart!!! If your interest check out this link.

There will be another camp in July 16 – 20.

Susan's Corner

There are a couple of things I wish to share about. The Beginning Quilters Class has been changed. Instead of once a month for 4 meetings it will be every 2 weeks beginning in June. Meaning it will only take 2 months to complete the course. Also the shop now has a Daily Deals basket at 45 % off with a minimum purchase of $5.00.

FOR ALL YOU Stash Busters at Hyderhangout we now have the beautiful coffee, tea mugs for purchase and T-Shirts. This makes a great gift to have for your-self or for a friend. Fallingwaters told me she drinks from her mug every morning.

If you bring in can good for charity you can get a fat quarter.

StashBusters

We are doing a Friendship Quilt with 12 1/2 inch squares with your name in it somewhere.

Still need beginning quilters bag or box with items they can use like thimbles, seam ripper, material, needles, etc. Stash Busters will be meeting the second Sat May the 12 at 1 pm. Monday the 14 at 6 pm.

Surface Design

This is a group of local artists and quilters who are exploring non-traditional quilting and textile art techniques. They meet the third Monday of each month at 6:00 PM. Hyderhangout is generous in letting this group meet in their classroom at no charge. There is no charge for coming to this group. The members of the group pitch in with supplies out of their own stashes. Come join us and bring new ideas and techniques to explore.

May 21, 2012 meeting color remover experimentation.

Cost $ 50.00

Includes Book, some kits for small homework, and use of tools at shop, notes.
