29.24-20.010. Purpose and Effect of Chapter.

Brigham City has a rich historical legacy that is evident in the number of buildings and sites in the City that are eligible for the National Register of Historic Places. The Planning Commission and City Council of Brigham City have found that it is in the interest of the citizens of Brigham City that these buildings and sites be preserved in a state that does not detract from their historical character, as a physical reminder of the historical heritage of Brigham City. To this end, the City Council has adopted design guidelines and a design review ordinance that govern the RDA #1 District bounded by 100 North, 200 South, 100 West and 100 East. The heritage Site Overlay Zone is intended to provide for economically viable uses for historic buildings and sites located outside of the RDA #1 District. It is the purpose and intent of the City Council that such uses occur in a planned setting which will be compatible and complimentary with adjacent uses including, but not limited to, nearby residential neighborhoods, and will promote a high level of architectural and landscaping excellence. It is further the purpose and intent of the City Council that preservation of the site's listing or eligibility for listing on the National Register of Historic places, and adherence to the Secretary of Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation and Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings (hereafter "Secretary of Interior's Standards"), are required in any approval.

29.24-20.020. Permitted or Conditional Use Review.
