Bloom With Grace
By Vicki McCarty

Trace appliques onto fusible web. Iron fusible to wrong side of wool. Cut out on the lines. Use placement pattern to fuse appliques to background. Stitch appliques down using blanket stitch and matching Valdani 12 wt. pearl cotton threads. Trace letters and details (shown in blue on placement pattern) onto Sulky Tear Easy Stabilizer. Pin stabilizer to background and stitch with a tight outline stitch. Tight stitch will perforate stabilizer for easy removal. Sew a lazy-daisy stitch for the vine leaves. Trim one side of each $\frac{3}{4}$ " x 8" brown wool strip to $\frac{1}{2}$ " with a pinking rotary blade. Place $\frac{1}{4}$ " Steam-A-Seam Lite Double Stick Fusible tape on wrong side of strips and fuse to 8" background to create a frame. Sew a running stitch down center of strip to sew to background (shown in blue dashes on placement pattern). Sew colonial knot for the sheep' eyes and copper beads on center of each flower (shown as green dots). Sew on buttons (shown as red Xs). Trim homespun background to 9" x 9". Fold over and press a $\frac{1}{2}$ " seam on all sides to make it 8" square. Attach homespun to back of project with a whip stitch.
