

Hello Everyone!

Thank you for attending our new owner embroidery series class, as promised here are the links to the workbooks I mentioned in class. I've also included some other links that might be helpful to you in the future. Please let us know if you have any questions or we can help you with anything.

Mastery Workbooks - This link has all 3 workbooks that I like to use.

For those of you that haven't already, I would also recommend subscribing to the WeAllSew blog that Bernina offers. They put out important updates about machines and they do tons of cute projects. Also, don't forget to sign up for our newsletter here. We will include new classes that we are offering and we will also post cool tips and tricks.

EMBROIDERY

This Software Mastery Workbook is a handy tool if you ever decide to invest in the embroidery software that Bernina offers. You can also thumb through this to see if you would be interested in investing in it.

As far as actually embroidering on your machine I would refer you to youtube and OESD's website. These are a couple of content creators that I recommend watching.

OESD - Their "Perfect Tips & Tricks" series is particularly educational.

Machine Embroidery Stabilizer Basics - This webpage goes into detail about the different types of stabilizers and when you should use the different kinds. Here is the Quick Reference Chart for OESD stabilizers as well.

Here are some embroidery design websites that I particularly like.

REMINDERS

1. Don't forget about the "?" icon on your machine. This will be a great resource to you as you learn what everything does.
2. Don't be afraid to play around, you're not going to break your machine.
3. Don't get frustrated, if you need some extra help don't be afraid to call the store and schedule a refresher course with me or you are welcome to attend another class that we have scheduled. We started doing one every month on the 2nd Tuesday for 570's and 770's and on the 2nd Thursday for 590's and 790's. The time depends on the month.

Thank you for everything and for being such wonderful students. If you need anything, seriously call us. We want you to have a good experience with your machine.
