A NOTE FROM JESS'S DESK

At Byrne Sewing, we're fueled by a simple yet powerful mission: to serve our makers and creators better with every stitch, every class, and every moment you spend with us. That's why we've reimaged our class catalog not just as a list of offerings, but as a beautiful reflection of the creativity that fills our store and classrooms. We redesigned it to focus on what matters most: the inspiration, education, and community that keep your crafting passion fueled.

One of the biggest changes you'll notice is how we present our class listings. Gone are lengthy descriptions. Instead, you'll find gorgeous photos that showcase the thought and artistry behind each class sample, curated sewing patterns you'll want to start right now, and reflections that speak directly to your creative soul. The new format is more than functional—it's meant to ignite your imagination. Think of it not just as a catalog, but as a mini-magazine that celebrates the joy of making, encourages you to try something new, and sparks your creativity.

We've also extended the calendar to include four full months of classes led by some of the most passionate, talented educators in the industry. So take a moment, flip through, and let your next creative adventure begin.

Pack your (machine-free) bags and get ready to explore the wild frontier of modern making! At Camp B.S., we're trading in tents and bug spray for bobbins and cutting blades. This hands-on maker's getaway is designed for sewing adventurers of all skill levels who are ready to dive into the exciting world of embroidery, cutting machines, and even fabric printing, all in a fun, supportive camp-style setting.

We've partnered with Brother to transform our classroom into the ultimate creative campground. You'll get to try out their top-of-the-line embroidery machines and Scan N Cut cutting machines, all with expert guidance from visiting Brother educators.

Whether you're just embroidery-curious or ready to level up your skills, this is your chance to learn, experiment, and create without having to bring your own gear.

- »» Two full days of instruction and hands-on project time
- »» Use of our in-house Brother machines: no need to bring your own!
- »» Curated project kits so you can create right out of the gate
- »» Lunch provided each day (because no one creates well on an empty stomach)
- »» A welcoming, bug-free creative space with fellow campers who love to make as much as you do

STITCH BY STITCH

AN INSTRUCTOR INTERVIEW WITH SEWIST LYNN BEACH

Tell us about your history with sewing, who or what got you started and what led you to teaching bags and garment making?

My paternal grandmother sewed everything, and my mother learned from the Penn State Home Economists–Homemakers Club. I started hand sewing Barbie clothes as a young girl and, by age 10, was using Mom’s sewing machine. By eighth grade, I was making everything from bathing suits (my first was terry cloth—it never dried!) to a double-breasted, lined coat. I even made my own patterns.

I wanted to attend design school but stayed closer to home, studying Fashion Merchandising at IUP. During my senior year, I participated in a cooperative program with the Fashion Institute of Technology in NYC.

After 14 years as a children’s wear designer and becoming certified in Family and Consumer Sciences, I joined Byrne Sewing in October 2020. I started teaching smaller projects and Sewing 101, then quickly became hooked on teaching ByAnnie projects. Now, I teach a variety of classes, including bags, garments, and fitting, while sharing my knowledge and tips with students of all ages.

Q. What do you say to students who feel intimidated by learning to sew or tackling on larger challenges of intermediate and advanced projects?

Try it in a small way first—make a small bag or take Sewing 101, for instance. Even if you know how but are a bit rusty, or have never sewn before, everyone who takes Sewing 101 is glad they did! Don’t be afraid to try a new skill in a less costly fabric before you cut into your favorite print, for example. Just do it—as the sports company says. You’ll never know unless you try. Students often surprise themselves with what they can accomplish!

Q. What’s the most common mistake beginners make when learning to sew or tackling new projects?

I’d say there are two key things. First, seam allowance is so important! If you don’t follow the seam allowance prescribed in the pattern, the parts won’t fit or go together properly. I have an exercise in Sewing 101 to teach this. Second, reading the pattern thoroughly before starting is crucial. If you don’t know where you’re going, how can you get there? A good pattern will tell you the required seam allowance and provide many other instructions that must be followed for a successful outcome.

Q. What are your favorite tools or notions that you always recommend?

I recommend a good sewing machine (Byrne carries a great selection), quality thread like Mettler, and a sewing edge placed on your machine to aid in sewing the correct seam allowance. I also regularly use a Chaco Liner, tailor's chalk, Mark-B-Gone, a ByAnnie Stiletto, a sewing gauge, a bodkin, and ByAnnie Double-Sided Basting Tape. Lastly, we all need good, sharp seam rippers (yes, that is plural!). No one is above making mistakes!

Q. What can students expect from your classes?

I meet them where they are. I only expect them to do what they can, but encourage them to step outside their comfort zone and try new things. I constantly circulate through the class, helping you to get to the next step, answering questions and repeating directions, if needed. If the class time is not sufficient for you to finish, I have Sewing 201 to help you get there. Everyone works at their own speed and some need more time. Have several UFO's (UnFinished Objects)? Bring them to 201 and we'll get them done.

Q. What can students expect from your classes and one project every new sewist should try?

Take your time and relax. Have appropriate expectations of your current skill level and build on that. Celebrate your successes and keep your mistakes to yourself, you are likely the only one to see them, unless you point them out. So DON'T! Fewer details are better, learn the basics, then add from there. A simple top like Cielo (sign up this fall) or a ByAnnie Clam Up (also this fall) are the perfect starting places. See you in class!

ASK AN INSTRUCTOR

"How do I stop my fabric from being eaten when I start to sew?"

Answer: "Use a starter and an ender, which are scrap pieces of fabric you run before you start to sew your block and then run another one when you're finished. Then this piece becomes your new starter, and you'll take your fabric scrap you started with and it becomes your new ender."

A WEEK OF LONGARM MASTERY

IN OCTOBER DEEP DIVE INTO ALL THINGS LONGARM WITH WITH INSTRUCTOR ADAM SEW FUN!

Hi everyone, I'm Adam Rateliff, AKA Adam Sew Fun! I'm a quilt enthusiast and longarm educator. I started my quilting journey about 12 years ago when my partner decided he wanted to start quilting. We both grew up with mothers who sewed garments and costumes, so sewing came easy to us; the quilting part took a little more time. We purchased our first machine and both fell in love.

After talking with some coworkers of mine, we both signed up for a paper piecing class with a Judy Niemeyer pattern and became hooked. We also realized that weekend that one machine wasn't going to be enough.

At that time, I was working as an accountant, and quilting was the way I would relax at the end of the day. It was so easy to put on some music or a book and get carried away by the hum of the sewing machine. Fast forward a few years, we moved to Eugene, OR, and I joined the local guild. Some of them happened to own a longarm. I played with it one day at a sewing group and said, "If Ben ever touches this, we will have one on order." Well, the next time I went over to the sewing group, Ben came with me, and the rest is history.

Here I met some friends and one of them really hit the ground running when our longarm got set up. I wanted to learn and know everything about it. I would follow people who inspired me on Instagram and Facebook, see them doing these amazing things, and knew I wanted to do them too. I started trying new things and increasing my skill levels. At each stage, I knew it wasn't going to be perfect, but I was doing it. I think this gave me a little edge over others because I wasn't scared.

I decided to leave the accounting world and applied to be an educator. I travel around the nation teaching classes and try to push all my students out of their comfort zones. I'm very big on keeping things positive and always pull out one positive thing about each project, even if it's not the outcome I'm looking for.

During the year of COVID, I started my Adam Sew Fun YouTube channel, where I create content for longarm quilters to help them on their journey. I am so passionate about this art form and want to share my love and passion with the world. I have subscribers from around the world and have taught Zoom classes where I have a cast of international students.

My life was changed the day we decided to purchase the longarm, and I'm happily riding the wave of that change. I have a motto: "At the end of the day, it's just quilting." I tell everyone this because you might have a mistake in the quilt, but it's just a quilt. If you don't love it, you won't want to finish, so love what you are doing, don't worry about mistakes, and remember, "At the end of the day, it's just quilting!"

THE END OF AN ERA

CRAFTING LIFE AFTER JOANN

If you're anything like me, the news about Joann Fabrics stirred up a wave of emotion. For so many of us, it was where our sewing journey began—where we chose our first patterns, matched fabrics under buzzing fluorescent lights, and filled our carts with inspiration (and probably more notions than we needed). It was familiar, accessible, and, in its own way, nurtured generations of makers.

So yes, seeing that chapter close feels bittersweet. But as a lifelong maker—and now the owner of a woman-founded, woman-owned sewing business—I also see an opportunity rising from the loss.

With Joann's closing its doors, there's now space. Space for our creative community to rediscover the magic of shopping with intention. Space to connect with people who live and breathe sewing. Space to create in an environment that fuels your passion with care, knowledge, and genuine connection. That's exactly what we've built here at Byrne Sewing.

stitch—they empower. At Byrne Sewing, every product is thoughtfully selected, and every team member is here to support your creative journey with a level of expertise and heart that's hard to find in big-box stores.

With over four decades of sewing experience, we take our role seriously—whether we're helping you choose your next machine, guiding you to the perfect fabric, or celebrating your latest project with you. We're here to be your creative partner, every step of the way.

So while one door is closing, we invite you to step through ours. Come experience what it means to shop where your craft is understood, celebrated, and supported. This is more than a store. It's a creative haven. And we can't wait to welcome you home.

– Jess

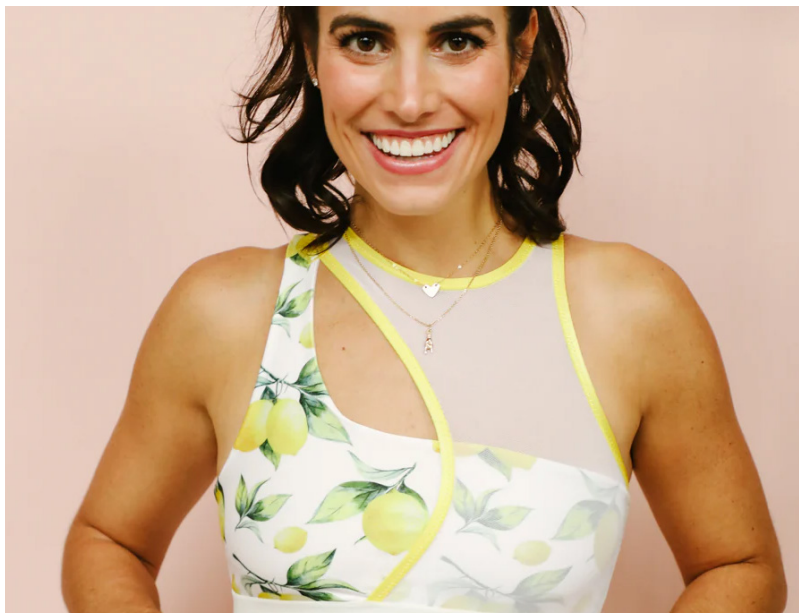

We're not just a quilt shop. We're a home for all makers: quilters, garment sewists, bag makers, serial crafters, embroidery lovers, and anyone just dipping their toes into the creative world. If you find joy in making something by hand, you belong here.

This isn't just about switching where you shop—it's about changing how you experience the craft. We believe in slow sewing. Mindful making. Carefully chosen fabrics. Machines that do more than

Madalynne Intimates

LEGGINGS & SPORTS BRA WORKSHOP

Get ready for an amazing event led by the queen of modern bra making—Maddie from Madalynne Intimates! This inspiring two-day workshop is where comfort meets couture. Known for pioneering the revival of handmade lingerie and athletic wear, Maddie will guide you through creating a perfectly fitted, high-end sports bra and leggings set that looks as good as it feels.

In this hands-on workshop, you'll learn invaluable skills that take you from endlessly picking through the athletic racks at Lululemon and Athleta in search of the right fit and style—to creating your own, right from the comfort of your sewing chair. No more spending big on sportswear sets—instead, you'll be making ones that fit not only your size, but your personal flair.

Maddie will teach you how to work with performance stretch fabrics while mastering techniques to construct supportive, stylish activewear, custom-fitted to your unique body. Your finished details will look like they came straight off the store mannequin!

Whether you're a seasoned sewist or stepping into apparel-making for the first time, Maddie's expert instruction and signature style will leave you inspired, empowered, and walking away with a pro-level activewear set made entirely by you.

A CRAFTER'S GUIDE ON COMPARING MACHINES

COMPARISON MATTERS

Choosing a sewing machine is more than a product purchase; it's a creative partnership. Whether your passion lies in quilting, sewing, or both, your success begins with finding a machine that fits you and a dealer who understands your goals. Where you buy your machine is just as important as which machine you choose. An independent retailer is the single biggest key to your sewing success outside of being matched with the right machine.

At a trusted quilt shop like ours, you'll find something the big-box stores and online listings can't offer: expert guidance from people who care about your craft. Our sales team is trained to help you find the machine that suits your needs, your experience, and your sewing dreams. We take the time to understand what you sew, what you want to make, and what features will help you grow.

Different sewing projects require different tools. Quilters often need a larger throat space, stitch regulators, walking feet, and extension tables to handle large or bulky projects, while garment sewists might want to prioritize speed control, adjustable presser foot pressure, and a wide range of utility stitches to shape garments and handle curves with ease. While some machines can do both, many are better suited to one focus. That's where having someone help you navigate the options can make all the difference.

The quality of your machine matters, and so does the quality of your dealer. Investing in a sewing machine is not just about price; it's about performance, longevity, and support. Some machines offer high-tech features like embroidery capability or computerized stitch libraries, but those bells and whistles aren't always what you need. Whether you are looking for a reliable beginner model or stepping into a mid-range or premium machine, we help you balance the budget with the right features for your sewing journey. We also ensure that the machine you bring home is one that you know inside and out by offering free Customer Care Courses for a lifetime.

A good sewing machine should make your work easier, faster, and more enjoyable. The right machine will encourage your creativity and help you build your skills. The right dealer will be there to support you with knowledge, service, and inspiration long after you leave the store.

In the end, finding the best machine for you is only part of the process. Buying it from a place that understands your craft, your goals, and your passion makes all the difference. Let us help you make the right match, so you can sew with confidence and joy for years to come.

WHY YOU WOULD LOVE ONE

Bernina 990

For sewists who value precision and Swiss engineering, the 990 delivers unmatched stitch accuracy, powerful automation, and a luxury feel in every detail.

Janome M17

Perfect for makers who love a balance of power and user-friendliness, the M17 blends advanced tech with intuitive controls and top-tier quilting tools.

Brother Aveneer

Creative sewists will love the Aveneer's playful tech like StitchVision and AI embroidery—turning photos into stitches makes it feel like magic.

"I love everything that my Aveneer can do for me, especially making quilts. The dual-feed walking foot with the 1/4" attachment helps my blocks lay really flat as they are completed. Once my quilt top is done, I can use the built-in edge-to-edge designs to quilt it, and it's also got border designs that can be configured for any size quilt that I create...there really is no need to send my quilts out to a longarmer, which saves me time and money. But the feature that I love most about my Aveneer is the Projector! Brother upgraded the size from the Luminaire to 8x5"...which is huge! I use it all the time when I want precise placement of embroidery designs, and it helps when I'm doing E2E quilting, especially since my hooping skills really need more work. But I can also use the Projector on the sewing side of my machine as well. I really like to add those decorative stitches to table runners and placemats to spice them up a bit. Let's face it, no one wants to spend time ripping stitches out, and the projector shows me how they will look, so I won't have to spend any time with Jack (the ripper)" - Michelle, owner of the Brother Aveneer

FABRIC FORECAST: COLOR + CLOTH

The colors and patterns to carry you through the seasons

There's nothing quite like walking into a quilt shop and being surrounded by color. The shelves full of fabric, the swatches on the cutting table, the half-finished projects on the design wall, it's all one big, beautiful reminder of why we sew in the first place. It's inspiring, it's energizing, and honestly? It makes you want to drop everything and start stitching. This fall and winter, we're feeling deep, cozy, warm neutrals, those earthy tones that make everything feel just a little more grounded. Think rich clay, warm cocoa, dusty taupe, and that kind of soft brown that just feels like fall. They're the kind of colors that work perfectly for garments, bags, and accessories you want to live in all season long.

But that doesn't mean we're skipping the drama. Gem tones are also having a moment, and we're here for it. Deep sapphire, smoky amethyst, ruby red, and a moody emerald, they're bold, a little luxurious, and pair beautifully with those warm neutrals for a high-impact, low-effort look. When it comes to prints, it's all about balance. We're seeing a mix of tiny, unbothered prints (the kind that go with everything) blended with big, tonal florals that add just the right touch of flair without taking over. One of our favorites this season? A soft peachy rust floral from the Love Letters collection by Moda. It's warm, inviting, and totally fall-ready.

So, whether you're planning your next quilt, stitching up a new fall wardrobe piece, or finally making that bag pattern you've had your eye on, let these colors be your guide. Swing by the shop, get inspired, and let the Season lead the way. Because around here, we don't just follow trends, we turn them into handmade magic.

STITCH THIS

The tote of the season is here

The Carpenter's Star Tote is a sturdy, stylish project bag that's perfect for carrying tools, fabric, or everyday essentials. In the fall, use it as a market tote, a library bag, or a catch-all for your sewing notions. Come winter, it's great for holiday shopping, carrying gifts, or packing supplies for cozy crafting days. Draw inspiration from our fabric selection or make it seasonally themed with warm flannels or festive prints. Make this your tote—unique to your style or a seasonal look that's both functional and fun.

A little pocket guide to beginner sewing and quilting terms

Appliqué

Ornamental needlework in which pieces of fabric are sewn or stuck onto a large piece of fabric to form pictures or patterns.

Baste

A temporary stitch used to hold fabric pieces together before final sewing. Basting stitches are longer and easier to remove than regular stitches.

Backstitch

A stitch used at the beginning and end of seams to secure them. It can also refer to a hand-sewing technique that creates strong seams.

Bias

The diagonal direction of fabric, which allows it to stretch. Cutting fabric on the bias can help it fit curves better.

Gathering

A technique used to create ruffles or fullness in fabric by sewing long stitches and pulling the threads to gather the fabric.

Notch

A small cut made in the seam allowance to help with fitting and aligning fabric pieces.

Seam Allowance

The area between the edge of the fabric and the stitching line. It is important for ensuring seams are strong and can be adjusted.

Zipper Foot

A special presser foot that allows you to sew close to the zipper teeth, making it easier to attach zippers to fabric.

The winner will be announced on Halloween (Friday the 31st) and will receive 1 yard of our popular Moda "Home Sweet Haunt" fabric, a winner's feature across our social media, and a spotlight article in our next class catalog celebrating your best projects from your showcase-worthy sewing skills.

Entry deadline: October 1st

Need a little project inspiration to get you started? There's so many ways to make fabric pumpkins, but we included a QR code to take you to a step by step guide that we like.

CLASS POLICIES

CLASS REGISTRATION

Please sign up for classes at least 1 week in advance. Registration can be done by phone, in person, or online at byrnesewing.com. It is necessary to pre-register for all classes. You may register in person or by phone. Payment must be made in full to assure your place in class. We need this commitment from you in order for our classes to run as smoothly as possible and so our teachers can properly prepare. In many cases, it is necessary to do things ahead of time to be properly prepared, so be sure to check your supply list in advance!

CLASS SUPPLIES AND QUESTIONS

If you have questions regarding a class or supply list needs, you may directly reach out to our instructors via our website directory. If you do not see your instructor's name listed, please forward your questions to: info@byrnesewing.com

EVENTS AND CLASSES WITH MEALS PROVIDED

We are updating our policy regarding food allergies and special dietary accommodations for classes where lunch is provided. It is the student's responsibility to inform us of any food allergies or special dietary needs. All food allergies or special accommodations must be submitted to our event coordinator, Kathy Schiefer, by email at kathy@byrnesewing.com no later than 7 days prior to the event or workshop. Please note that we may not be able to accommodate food allergies or special requests submitted less than 7 days before the event.

REFUND POLICY

We must make our commitment to teachers one week prior to the start of their class. Therefore, refunds are available when your cancellation is made at least one week prior to the first class. No exceptions. In the event that a class must be cancelled, individuals will be contacted and given a full refund.

BAD WEATHER POLICY

In inclement weather, all students will be notified if the class is cancelled. A new class date will be scheduled. If you are unable to attend the rescheduled date, a full refund will be issued.

CUSTOMER CARE COURSES

When you purchase a machine or software from Byrne Sewing, you're entitled to free basic instructional Customer Care Courses! These classes are designed to familiarize you with all the features and functions of your new machine or software, ensuring you feel confident and ready to sew. If you haven't taken advantage of your free classes yet, give us a call or email us at info@byrnesewing.com. These classes are required before signing up for regular sewing classes, unless you already have a good working knowledge of your machine. If you purchased your machine elsewhere, no problem—our guide classes are available for a fee. Sign up today and make the most of your sewing journey!
