

Step 4.

Fold the three 3 5/8" wide strips of fabric #1 in half, placing the selvages on top of one another. Folding is necessary to assure that you cut the the reverse pieces.

In order to reduce the amount of cutting, stack the three folded strips, selvages on top of one another, so that you will be cutting through six layers instead of two. Trim the selvages, squaring the ends of the strips.

Use the template below or Marti Michell's Perfect Patchwork Template C17 to cut triangles from the folded strips. Separate the triangles into two piles, X and X-reverse. Cut thirty-eight of each triangle.

Step 5

Sew an X triangle of fabric #1 from Step 4 to each kite-shaped piece of fabric #4 from Step 3. Press the seam allowances toward fabric #4.
