Spiral Infinity Scarf

Four Fat Quarters
Sewing machine
Coordinating thread
Rotary cutter
Cutting mat ruler

Supplies:

Cutting instructions:

1. Trim selvedge off of the fat quarters
2. Along the longest side, cut slits approximately 1 inch long every 4 inches.
3. Tear the fabric, insuring that it is along the straight of grain.
4. This will give you 4 inch by 18 inch strips approximately 20 of them. Save the scraps that are left you may need them.

Sewing instructions:

1. Set sewing machine up for straight stitch with $\frac{3}{8}$ inch seam allowance.
2. Pick your favorite presser foot . I suggest a single hole foot.
3. Using a $\frac{3}{8}$ inch seam allowance, sew strips together across the 4 inch side giving you one long 4 inch wide strip of fabric.
4. When you sew the first seam then finger press the seam to the darker fabric then top stitch $\frac{1}{4}$ inch from the seam through the seam allowance.
5. Roll up the strip. Pulling from the outside of the roll. Lay the strip right side down on a cutting board. Fold the first part of the strip so you have an 8 inch folded piece with the edges touching each other. They will be at an angle see the 1st picture. This sets the width of the scarf so if you want it wider or narrower you need to change at this time.
6. If you have a free arm on your sewing machine, it would be good to use it. Put wrong sides together. (If you want your seam to the inside of your scarf then put right sides together). Start sewing from the beginning of the strip .

7. Continue to sew until you are about 3 inches from the end , the tube will be inside out.
8. Lay the tube out so the two ends meet, just like they will if it is a continuous tube. You will either have too much fabric or too little fabric. This is when you will use the scrap to add on to the end of one strip if you are a little short.
9. Put the ends together so it is like they are a continuous piece
10. Fold the ends in so they meet
11. Mark the line where they meet. This is where they will be stitched together
12. Turn the scarf right side out before stitching together. If you want a twist in the scarf turn one end over to create the twist
13. Stitch on the line you mark
14. Grade the seam.
15. Finish stitching the seam to connect the ends together
16. If you decided to have the seams inside you will need to stitch as much as you can then stitch closed by hand.
17. Fray out the raw edges .
