Jalie "Renee" Ponte Pants

Charlene Mayala

Join us for this fun Overlocker or Sewing class making a pair of stretch pants from our Ponte Fabrics. Ponte knit is a combination of rayon, polyester and spandex. The thick, double-knit fabric provides a two-way stretch; it molds to your body shape while providing a smooth and streamlined silhouette.

High-waist (at navel), pull-on cigarette pants with concealed elastic at the waist and darts at the back.

- Inset detailing at the hip where you can use contrast fabric as a design element.
- Drafted for stable knits like ponte di roma.
- The hem should be at the ankle but vertical stretch will have an impact on the final length when you wear the pants. They might stretch out to below the ankle.

Supply List: Pattern: Jalie "Renee" pattern a front counter.

Fabric: Depending on your size, buy fabric according to the pattern recommendations. There are 28 sizes available on this pattern from girls to women. I suggest you make a traced copy of your pattern size and don't cut into the actual paper pattern. That way you can use it again for various sizes. Use the US size line on the chart and then look down under that chart to find the yardage line to find how much you need to purchase.

Do not pre-cut your fabrics, we will do that in class. We want to fit your pattern to you before you cut. If you are totally confident and have sewn garments for yourself before you may pre-cut.

Other supplies:

Black Fantastic Elastic for waistband (In class drawer at front counter)

2 yards Red Dot Fabric for Tracing single pattern

Pins or Wonder Clips, Marking pen or pencil

4 spools "So Fine" Overlocker Thread in closest color to blend with your fabric. You could also use Isacord or the Seracor cone threads

Rotary cutter and Kai Large Scissors for garment cutting, Large Cutting mat

Overlocker or Sewing Machine in good working order. Make sure your machine is ready to sew and you know how to operate well.
