NEW PERRY CITY SIGNS

The City of Perry was awarded a grant in the past to build welcome signs for the north and south entrance on Highway 89. We wish to give a warm “thank you!” to the scouts who provided a welcome sign at the South entrance of Perry years ago. A special thank you to former councilmember Brady Lewis, former Mayor Cronin, and our HR Specialist, Shanna Johnson for making this new grant a possibility.

Last year, Brady Lewis contacted Perry resident and designer Mark Hardin, who contributed his professional talent and time. Mark Hardin’s wonderful work will be seen throughout the city over the years as we work to display a consistent logo on letters, shirts, websites, and signage. Through a committee of Perry citizens, advise from elected officials, and through voting at the open house for the Perry City General Plan, the signs have been chosen (see picture #1) and carefully cut from long-lasting material. You may have seen one of the signs displayed at the Box Elder fair and in the newsletter last month. A smaller logo created by Mark will also be seen (see picture #2) in the future and was used on the small orange balls that were thrown out by the city council during the 4th of July parade.

Todd Williams, Deb Clawson, Sean Morris, Ryan Wood, K’Dee Wood, Jamie Wyatt, City Planner Bob Barnhill, council member Andrew Watkins, and planning commission member Blake Ostler all served on the committee, providing timely and professional opinions and advise. Committee member Sean Morris was instrumental in selecting the material and cutting the material. You may see the peach turn to a harvest orange color from time to time when the signs are displayed. We are waiting for UDOT to give us the final permissions, which could be weeks, or months – but we will be ready! Local welders, Dennis Hirshi and Jason Billings will help us with finishing mounting and pole touches.

Again, thank you to all who have participated and supported. We hope these signs and logos will add to the already rich culture and identity that gives Perry such a good reputation and glow!
