Greenwood County resident Russell McCoy attended the meeting to inform the commission that Neal residents had filed a complaint nearly eighteen months ago in regards to a property located south of the Neal Methodist Church, which is in violation of health codes. Spradlin noted that the owner of said property is currently incarcerated. Legal Counsel Paul Dean stated that since no action had been taken to remedy the matter, the next step is to proceed criminally. McCoy informed commissioners that there are several abandoned trailer houses and junk tires and would like to know what would happen to those items. Dean responded that he would be seeking an order for the entire lot to be cleared. A brief discussion ensued regarding the time line to settle the matter; Dean estimated ninety days. McCoy inquired if residents with equipment such as excavators and skid steers could offer their services in aiding the clean-up. Dean noted that volunteers would be welcome.

Greenwood County Appraiser's office employee Dawn Larcom presented commissioners with a renewal contract from McCully and Associates. Larcom noted that this company has provided services to aid the Appraiser's office while Shawna Griffiths works towards certification. Spradlin moved to accept renewal of said contract. Morgan seconded. Motion carried 4-0.

Commissioner Ballard moved to adjourn at 9:28 a.m. Morgan seconded. Motion carried 4-0.
