A Note from Sheryll

All,

Merry Christmas! Thank goodness it is just Christmas in July because I am nowhere near ready for Christmas to actually be here and I would bet candy canes that you are not ready either! So, to help you start getting ready we will be having a little sale like our 12 days of Christmas only shortened to 6 days (after all it is still 6 months away!) So keep an eye out for the emails that will start arriving later this month! Oh what fun we will have!

Row by Row has had a great start! Hope you are getting in on all of the free patterns that the participating shops have to offer!!

You can still get your Ozark Quilt Trail blocks till the 31st of this month and then you have till August 15th to turn in a minimum 5 block completed project to win the "big" Janome 6600P machine! If you don't really need another machine, go ahead and enter and if you win I will be more than happy to give the machine a very loving home!!!

Wishing each of you a safe, happy and fun filled 4th of July weekend!

Happy quilt & painting,
Sheryll Bentley

My Mom makes these absolutely awesome bar cookies a couple times a year and they are drool worthy! I was telling several people about them at a recent class and they said we should put the recipe in the newsletter! I said I would do that and then I should have a contest and have everyone make them and bring me a sample in to try to see if they are as good as Mom's. We all laughed about how fat I would get!! Mom says: "These are cookies that My Mom used to make when she worked at Sears in Illinois. They never had a name only "Chocolate Cookies". So I'm going to warn you, these will be the best chocolate cookie you have ever had!! Enjoy!

1/3 cup cocoa

1/2 cup butter

1/4 cup white sugar

1 egg slightly beaten

Combine and cook 5 minutes in double boiler, then add

2 cups graham cracker crumbs

1/2 cup coconut

1/2 cup chopped nuts.

Press in 9x13 pan and refrigerate till next layer ready

1/2 cup soft butter

2 tbsps. milk

3 tbsps. vanilla instant pudding mix (dry)

2 cups powdered sugar

Beat well and spread on top of the first mixture. set in refrigerator
