MESSAGE FROM THE TOWN:

Freedom isn't free – When you think about the wars that have been fought since the Civil War the many lives that have been lost, lives irreparably changed, voices silenced and soldiers/vets alive but invisible, shadows to many of us, it is a solemn reminder that freedom costs. Take this Memorial Day – to stop or call and say to a veteran, a soldier “Thank you for your service.”

As they gave their time to serve, find time to give back in the best way you know how. Be it - Food banks, clothes, donating to a military charity of your choice. They answered the call; and some gave all.

	Died	Total Casualties
Civil War	654,511	1,129,418
WWI	116,516	320,518
WW2	405,399	1,076,245
Korea	36,516	128,650
Vietnam	58,209	211,454
Middle East	2001-present day
	52,356	58,477

Total Casualties includes those killed and those wounded. Figures from Wikipedia – “U.S. military casualties of war”
