August 2014

Where has the summer gone? Has it been as busy for you as it was for me?

With our move to Oklahoma and taking on more responsibility, it seems like I'm working 24/7 anymore.

Our house in Texas hasn't sold yet, so it has meant a lot of trips back and forth. I am so ready for this to be over with. Maybe then, I can get some sewing done.

Thank goodness for all of my friends and customers. They have made the move a little more bearable.

August 30, some of my friends from Texas in the Van Alstyne quilt guild made the trip to see me. The bait - a quilt shop for them to visit.

We had a nice lunch in Antlers, OK and then off to the quilt shop. FUN!

If your every in southeast Oklahoma, check out Betsy's Quilt Shop east of Antlers on Hwy 3 about 3 miles.

As September arrives, many of us are starting our holiday projects. Looking for ideas, check out some of my patterns and fabric.

I have received over 30 new bolts in the last month. More coming in September too. Lots of gorgeous fabrics for your new projects.

This newsletter is short on me jabbing away. Lots of pictures of my patterns and new fabrics to get you started in sewing for the season.
