October 2018

Oh my gosh, where does the time go? It seems like it moves faster as each day goes by.

I haven't done a newsletter in two years. A lot has happened in those 2 years.

In May of 2017, I moved back to Texas. I just needed to be home. It has been wonderful and so busy. Just getting back in touch with family and friends is what I needed.

As far as quilting, I have done several new patterns. A new baby pattern is my next project since I have a new great niece on the way.

I have really expanded my fabric selection. There are even more precuts and bolts. If you love remnants, check those out. If you do Facebook, I post new arrivals there.

I have a number of new items for yourself or to use as gifts for friends or family too. If you haven't visited my website lately, I hope you will take a look.

Simply Charming

Illusions

Sweet Hearts

Jelly Roll French Braid

Sweet Baby Dreams

My website has a new, fresher look. I hope you like it. It works better on mobile devices than the old format. It's actually an upgrade.

There's a lot of new fabric too. My UPS driver and the people at the post office know me well. If I make only one trip to the post office a day, they think somethings wrong. Ha Ha!
