Plastic Template paper to trace pattern image

Frankenstitch is not intended for children. Pattern image is located on the second page, trace onto plastic template, and cut out on line. Place your 2 pieces of wool right sides together, trace the pattern with a chalk marking tool. I used the Handi Iron Off Pencil. Bring your sewing machine stitch to 18-20 stitches per inch. Sew all the way around Frank on the line. Then sew around Frank again right next to the first seam, on the outside of the seam. This creates a break away seam. Trim with an 1/8th" seam allowance. Pull the wool apart from the center of the body and make a slit in his back that measures 3", between the head and center of body. Make sure to only cut through back layer of wool. Turn body inside out. Stuff with Perfect Loft Poly Fill, this product does not clump. Fill legs, arms and head real tight, fill body last using less fill. Close opening with criss cross stitch to look like he had surgery. Stitch a mouth, and stitches on arms and legs. Use vintage buttons for eyes and body center. Tear a piece of muslin for around neck. Place Tack Nail into neck with a little fabric glue. Make numerous Frankenstitches and place in a bowl for Halloween, or simply place on a shelf.
