Supplies:

Towels

Fabric for border (I have used a 4" WOF piece of fabric and this will do 2 towels unless your towels are very wide)

Babylock Rinse-Away Tear-Away Stabilizer

Find the center of your towel by pressing or marking in some other manner.

Hoop 2 layers of Stabilizer and your towel in the appropriate size hoop.

Stitch out the design of your choice. I have used the Free Fall Pumpkin Embroidery Design from Kreative Kiwi.

After the embroidery is complete, remove the towel from the hoop and tear away the stabilizer.

Trim away the bottom hem from your towel using your ruler and rotary cutter.

Cut your WOF in half.

Lay your fabric face down onto the bottom of the front of the towel centering the fabric on the towel.

Using a ¼" seam, stitch the fabric onto the towel.

Press the fabric down to the bottom of the towel

Turn the towel over and press up the lower raw edge approximately ½" inch and fold the fabric back to the front of the towel.

Pin the fabric fold just over the seam of the towel and fabric and mark down the fabric along the edge of the towel and stitch.

Trim off the ends of the border and then turn your border to the right side and press up being sure to press up just above the seam line and pin in place to hold while you top stitch the front of your towel.
