Wishing you a Merry Christmas!

The Holiday Season is here at last.....

This can be a great time of year, as we get together with family and friends to celebrate the season. The true holiday spirit is reborn in us all as we gather those most important in our lives close to us. It is refreshing to me after many years of working with the troubles of society to see so many of you go out of your way to show kindness to your fellow man. It is wonderful to watch as people help each other and serve those less fortunate during this time of year.

For the past three years I have been truly lucky to be included in the planning and organization of the annual Lindon City Thanksgiving dinner. This event has grown from just an idea into an amazing example of a true community-wide effort to selflessly serve one another. What a great feeling to watch entire families eager to cook, clean, serve or even peel a whole lot of potatoes..... just in an effort to do good! On Thanksgiving Eve and Day, the Community Center turns into a beehive of activity which we somehow choreograph into a wonderful day of food, entertainment, good company and conversation.

This year I'm happy to report that well over 500 people were served by an army of over 200 volunteers. I can also report that every one of those volunteers was smiling and went home with a full heart. We have a problem here in Lindon, but it's a good problem. We have so many people who want to help that we didn't have enough work to go around! That says a lot about you, the residents of Lindon. Thank you! And thank you Mayor Dain for starting a tradition that will hopefully carry long into the future!

During this holiday season, please slow down, both mentally and physically! Take the time to enjoy the people and things happening around you, and take your time travelling on what could be snowy roads any day now! Rushing around in traffic is not safe and results in a lot of accidents, injuries and deaths each year. Do your best to avoid stress of every kind as much as possible and search daily for the true holiday spirit. Most of all "Be excellent to each other!" Trivia Question, who can remember what movie that's from?

Remember as always to be careful with your money, credit cards and information. Lock your doors, don't leave valuables in the car, and make your home appear to be occupied when you are away. Don't drink too much and never drink and drive. Remember that the designated driver is a Hero. Take your turn to be one. Show love to your family, friends and to random people that you meet along the way. The holidays can be a rough time for some people, and a cheerful Hi! Or Merry Christmas! may brighten an otherwise dark day for someone.

Thank you all for being great members of this amazing community and for giving us the opportunity to serve you each day. The men and women of the Lindon City Police Department wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy Holiday Season!

Cody Cullimore
Chief of Police
