

Sew-ology Gazette

March 2019

Dear Material Girl,

As I sit here and write this month's installment of the Sewology Gazette, everyone is frantically prepping for possibly the last snow storm of the season for us. Hopefully everyone will spend the day warm in the house snuggled under a warm quilt or spending some quality time in their sewing rooms.

Camp Cameo this month will feature a lesson on how to cut heat transfer vinyl and apply it to a wood surface to create a custom hanging sign. We will introduce a new quilt for the beginner looking for their next project, a free motion quilting class for those wanting to continue their free motion quilting practice, a quick and easy placemat class, and a dive into curve piecing as we prep for the warmer weather and dream of the islands.

We also have four new BERNINA Creative Studio classes this month, a new Kimberbell Krew project, a Hoppy Easter Bench Pillow project, and a hands on workshop for our Accu-Quilters. Be sure to take a moment to look through what is happening this month and hope to see you!

Thank you for your continued support and keep on sewing,

Amy, Robin, and Mike

Travel Essentials

Carry your travel essentials in style with this handy set which includes a hanging organizer and flat iron sleeve. The organizer measures 12" x 27" when open and folds to a compact 12" x 9" x 3" for storage.

Three see-through pockets in the hanging organizer make everything easy to find. A deep zippered pocket on the bottom is perfect for bottles, tubes, and larger items. Features include a comfortable padded handle and optional detachable carrying strap which can be adjusted for comfortable carrying over the shoulder.

The organizer would also make a perfect carrying case for transporting sewing supplies and projects to classes. Use the flat iron sleeve to house your mini iron or rotary cutters.
