President's Message

I just wanted to let you know how much I am missing you and our time at our Guild meetings. Seeing you energizes my creativity. I love the programs, workshops, philanthropy opportunities, and Show-and-Tell. I don't know how long it will be until we are able to meet again, but I hope that you are safe and are spending time with your fabrics.

Currently, the Electric Theater has said that they will be closed until further notice. With the need to social distance from others, we can't meet. We will let you know when we can meet again. I hope that you will find ways to be creative in the interim.

One way we can help is making face masks. Sharon Friedman has all the details in her Workshop article. That is one thing I do know about quilters: When there is a need, we all band together to help.

Stay safe!

Hello, fellow quilters!

I was lucky enough to be able to travel to Seattle recently not only to visit my daughter and son-in-law, who live in Olympia, but to attend the Sewing & Stitchery Expo in Puyallup. This show is different from quilt shows in that, in addition to quilting, it showcases garment sewing, knitting, crocheting, and embroidering, among other activities. So, although there were, sadly, very few quilts on display, it was interesting to visit booths and learn about other forms of stitchery.

They also had a "Charity Sewing" area, complete with about a dozen sewing machines (my first experience with a Baby Lock!), where anyone could sit down and sew a bag for feminine hygiene products, burp cloths, and receiving blankets. These items will be given to girls and women in Africa who otherwise would go without. I had already made one of the bags (along with Sue Licher, Viola Bodrero, and Jackie Brown; I dropped all four of the bags off at this booth), so I took the easy way out and just sewed a bunch of burp cloths. It was a great way to get some sewing in and meet a few people and share some stories and laughs.

Have a happy Easter!

Keep calm and be careful when sewing your zippers into your bags.

PRESIDENT'S QUILT BLOCK

Please note that I am still collecting these quilt blocks. You may mail them to me at 2855 S. 3100 E., St. George, UT 84790. If you need the instructions for the blocks, you can find them on the Guild's website under the Member Information tab. Thank you.

VICKI DOVE

“Yep, a quilter lives here,” was my first thought when I walked into Vicki Dove’s house and saw the quilts on the walls, tables, and quilt rack. And they were beautiful!

One interesting quilt on her kitchen wall was the Vintage Farm quilt. It was a quilting-group effort: Everyone made multiples of three blocks and shared them with the group so that, by the end, they each had a full quilt with blocks made by every member of the group. Vicki said that this quilt reminds her of growing up on a little farm in Orangeville, Utah, a mining community. She said that it was so small that she knew not only everyone in town but also everyone in the county!

Vicki grew up around quilting, as her mother was a hand quilter. However, Vicki didn’t have time to learn to quilt during the years that she was working. She taught school for 27 years – third grade for most of her career, and fourth grade for about five years. She retired in 2007, but she formed wonderful friendships during those teaching years, and she and her friends still get together once a month.

After she retired, Vicki took a quilting class from a friend, and she made the quilt, her first, that sits on her master bed.

Spring Garden took four years to make, and it won a blue ribbon at the Washington County Fair.

When Vicki made this log cabin quilt that now hangs in her living room, her son, Richard, said he wanted it; it was returned to her when he passed away three years ago at the age of 52.

Vicki also has a daughter, Sherry, who still lives in Orangeville, as well as five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. She has been teaching her two great-granddaughters, ages 10 and 11, to sew. One day, they were in her sewing room and told Vicki, "Don't come in!" They were making her a surprise:

Vicki has been married to Marvin for 25 years. He has had a lawn-care business for 20 years and does 14 lawns every week – and he's 82! He used to be part of the crew who took care of the Temple grounds and would get so enthused about what he learned that he would come home and do their own yard the same way. Their neighbors noticed it and asked him to start taking care of their lawns. And a business was born.

Vicki has been a Guild member since 2008. She likes the friendships and enjoys seeing all of the wonderful ideas and thinking about what she could do. She also has been a member of the Behind the Seams friendship group for about a year. They meet twice a month at the Roost and all bring machines and sew from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. (in between visiting and doing "fun stuff"! ). They also have an annual two-day retreat at the Roost, where everyone teaches a technique and does fun activities.

One of the workshop classes that Vicki took was "Shades of Dixie," taught by Bonnie Miles. This was a needle-turned, completely hand-done quilt.

Vicki also has done paper piecing but says that it's the first and only one she will ever do.

Many of us can relate.

STATE OF THE GUILD: JEANETTE IVIE

April's Guild meeting was to be our annual business meeting where I was going to present our accomplishments during my tenure as president, so, in place of that, I thought that I would take this opportunity now to fill you in.

The first major event was our 2019 Quilt Show held March 12–16. Norma Whaley was our Featured Quilter and presented a trunk show for us. We had classes, vendors, and quilts to see. Bruce Bussey was our Quilt Show chairman. Through his leadership and the hard work of his committee and volunteers, we were able to have a very, very successful show.

We have had many great workshops. Our local quilt shops have supported us throughout my tenure by allowing us to meet in their shops, and they have been very gracious to us. In turn, I hope we have spent time supporting them with our patronage.

Do you remember these Workshops that Sharon Friedman and Sherry Sarino arranged for us?

January 2019: It's All About Color, taught by Bonnie Miles

April: English Paper Piecing, taught by Paula McKinlay

May: Creative Borders, taught by Roma Lambson

June: Wool Class, taught by Tina Cox and Erolyn Peterson

September: Jobber's Odd Lot, taught by Bonnie Miles

October: Stitching Embroidery Designs, taught by Amy McClellan

November: Invisible Machine Embroidery, taught by Carroll Lee Stolz

January 2020: Sew Together Bags, taught by Elaine Connor

And the Programs:

January 2019: Meet the New Board through their Quilts

February: Tips and Tricks: Rene Hall, Toni Hall, Karen Schreiter, and Bonnie Miles

March: Quilt Show, with Featured Quilter Norma Whaley

April: Paula McKinley's Wonderful Quilts

May: The Fiber Art of Margaret Abramshe and the Art Quilt Friendship Group

June: Annie Unrein and her Many Bags

STATE OF THE GUILD – CONT'D.

September: Teresa Allsop from The Sewing and Quilting Center

October: Amy McClellan from American Quilting

November: Corey Kunde and her Storybook Quilts

December: Christmas Luncheon by the Sew Scrappy Friendship Group. Bruce Bussey led us in a quilter's version of the 12 Days of Christmas, and who can forget Linda Dennison's brother's version of 'Twas the Night Before Christmas?

January 2020: Creative use of Selvages by the Behind the Seams Friendship Group

February: Martelli, brought in by the Gypsy Quilters Friendship Group

Another activity was the Block of the Month 2019. Karen Jensen presented 12" blocks during our January–June 2019 meetings, which 18 members made into finished quilts that we showed at our November 2019 meeting. We began a new Block of the Month for 2020 and have done three blocks so far. I'm sure these quilts will be as lovely as last year's.

Philanthropy Group is continuously making up kits for the Guild members to make quilts for the many charities in the area, including Palliative Care, Head Start, Dixie Dialysis Center, and Liberty Dialysis. We also made pillows for Dixie Dialysis and Veteran facilities. In addition, we helped with Days for Girls and making tree quilt blocks for the fire victims in Australia.

We always have a wonderful time at our annual Sew Simple Quilt Retreat each February, put together by Sue Gilliam and her committee. The food is wonderful, and we now serve lunch every day of the retreat. This year, we simplified the door prizes: We had gift certificates to local quilt shops and restaurants, and some people donated items to be given out. The hotel, Springhill Suites in Springdale, Utah, has been our location for the past several years. They provide a wonderful gathering spot for us and are very accommodating.

We also have had two wonderful newsletter editors, Marlene Deal and Lynea Askey. It's a job that doesn't get many accolades. We get the newsletters in our email on a monthly basis, and they are filled with news and useful information. I, for one, am very grateful for our editors' hard work in getting the news out in a timely manner.

STATE OF THE GUILD - CONT'D.

Some of the new initiatives we began are: (1) having greeters to greet our new members and visitors at our Guild meetings and show them around; (2) adding individual logins to our website and permissions to post Show-and-Tell quilts; (3) working with quilt shops to facilitate our workshops and introduce members to their shops; (4) using MailChimp to email announcements to members to reduce the number of announcements at our Guild meetings; and (5) administering surveys electronically to help us know what the members' interests are.

It has been a fun year for me. Do you remember our first meeting in January 2019? Boy, was I scared! Now, toward the end of my tenure, I can say that it has been a fun learning experience. I have gotten to know you better, and I am proud to have been able to serve as your president.

HOW TO BE PREPARED: QUILTERS

For years, our family has followed the counsel to be prepared for the event of an emergency. We've had food storage beyond what we really needed but found that those cans of food became a source of meals for grandchildren who shopped in my food storage while they were young students. We learned to be wise in what we stored and not store things we either didn't like or wouldn't eat. We learned to use what we stored in new and better ways. But wait—what if . . . just what IF I could not get to a fabric store? What IF that store closed for some reason? What IF I ran out of thread or found myself without a sewing machine needle? Now that, friends, would be a real emergency. So, being a wise quilter, I began quietly preparing in a different way. I focused on needles as well as noodles. I bought thread along with tuna. I included books beside the beans. I filled shelves with fabric, not instead of, but in addition to flour. And I sat back and thought, “Ahhhh . . . now I am prepared.”

And here we are, smack dab in the middle of that darned “emergency.” Do I panic? Not really. (Except that I really wanted bananas today, and they were gone everywhere.)

I am content to pull out a few unfinished projects and determined to spend time finishing them. I will work my way through more than one or two old UFOs and, honestly, won't limit myself to them but start a few others I've wanted to try. And there is fabric that has just been waiting to take on life in a new quilt. Perfect time to get it out and play with it.

Are you missing a needle? Call me. Do you need thread? Call me. Missing a couple of pieces of fabric? Call me; I might have some. Do you want to look through a couple of quilt books? Call me (and be prepared to sanitize them later).

Do you want some ideas? Let's talk on the phone or share emails.

We will all miss the monthly gatherings, but for sure, being fully prepared as we are, we have no reason whatsoever to miss quilting and stitching.

Keep well, wash your hands, and stay safe! We love you all.

~ Bonnie Miles

WHERE TO LOOK FOR IDEAS AND CREATIVITY: Everywhere!

We hoped to continue our goal of talking about creative ideas in our monthly Dixie Guild meetings, and this will be the April effort—in an article. Despite our having to postpone our meetings, we are fortunate to be able to stay in touch and continue to inspire and help each other.

Where, as a quilter, do you look for new ideas and inspiration? The answer is as varied as we all are. Some of us depend on others' work, or seeing a quilt in a show. Some of us can look at a quilt pattern and want to completely duplicate it. Others see that same pattern and begin saying, "What if I . . . changed one segment . . . changed one color . . . added a piece here or there . . . sashed instead of putting the blocks side by side . . . set it on point . . . made it from seasonal fabric?" Suddenly, that pattern takes on a whole new look. Part of the fun of sewing is being brave enough to try a few new things. That would include looking at a pattern or project through YOUR eyes, instead of just through those of the original quilt artist.

Another source of inspiration is classes or workshops. Never think, "Oh, I've done that before, so there is nothing new for me to learn." As both a teacher AND a participant, I can vouch for the fact that we don't always just learn from the teacher in a class. There are as many ideas as there are class participants, and I always encourage those ideas to be shared. Take classes, enjoy workshops.

Treat yourself by buying the best fabric, threads, tools, and patterns you can afford—then take care of them. You'll always be happy you did that.

Look around you, especially outside. Nature is full of ideas just waiting for you to discover. Think about colors in nature. The master designer was generous in coloring this world in SO MANY beautiful tints and hues and shades. If you wonder about this, consider how colors are named . . . and how we can relate them to nature or things we are familiar with. We immediately recognize these colors when we hear them. Things like lemon yellow versus butter yellow. Robin's egg blue versus sky blue. Mandarin orange versus peach. Sage green versus pine green. The list goes on. Often, our background and experiences tend to wiggle into our way of seeing things, too. As an example, our granddaughter was getting married and asked for her wedding quilt to be green and brown. Being a girl who grew up with lots of open spaces and a big yard to play in, I responded, "Oh, you mean like mud and grass?" Our granddaughter, raised in a totally different way, in a different lifetime, replied, "No, Grandma, like chocolate and lime." Yep. See what I mean?

Bottom line: look around you. Open your creative eyes. Be brave and confident in trying something new and wonderful. Have fun. If it's not satisfying and enjoyable, why are we doing this?

Be healthy.

~ Bonnie Miles

GEMS OF THE DESERT QUILT SHOW 2021

Well, the calm that was felt just after the 2019 show ended, knowing that it was a whole two years before the next one, is slowly starting to dissipate upon realizing that our next show is only a year away now. It won't be long before planning will be in full force.

However, we already have many vendors signed up and a few classes planned, thanks to our hard-working Quilt Show staff. But please remember: We can't do it alone! So, please, members, if there is any way that you can help with the 2021 show, volunteer! Contact Bruce Bussey or Lynea Askey.

In the meantime, I thought you might like to see a quilt that I just finished for my daughter's best friend, Tracy, who's having a baby soon. I was planning to bring it for the Guild's Show-and-Tell in March because I had to give it to Tracy last week for her baby shower (which, to nobody's surprise, had to be canceled, anyway). But the theme for the shower was "Nautical."

- Lynea Askey

Changes Offer New Opportunities

To lose yourself in righteous service to others can lift your sights and get your mind off personal problems, or at least put them in proper focus. - Ezra Taft Benson

The impact of the coronavirus is being felt everywhere, and that includes our scheduled workshops for March and April. Sharon Wright was scheduled to be here March 13 and Megan Legas, on April 10. We will reschedule them for future dates, and will keep you all posted on plans for May and June.

In the meantime, we have made arrangements with Dr. Tracy Winward here in St. George for “Workshops at Home—Making Surgical Masks.” Doctors and hospitals are in urgent need of surgical masks right now, and we have discovered that they’re easy to make, quilters have everything they need to make them, and we can all do something proactive to help in this effort to defeat the virus. We’re reaching out to all of you to become involved, to dig into your stash, put your sewing skills and time to good use, and make a few masks to contribute to the effort to provide much needed surgical masks to our local and state hospitals.

There are several tutorials online that give directions on how to make these masks, and the best ones we’ve researched are:

You Tube: The 10 - Minute Mask

How to Sew a Medical Face Mask - Tutorial

Other resources to help you can be seen on these web pages:

<https://www.phoebehealth.com/patients-and-visitors/coronavirus/mask-production>

https://media.rainpos.com/1200/face\_mask\_instructions\_from\_gretchen\_jewell.pdf

General Guidelines to follow:

1. It is important that you use 100% cotton fabric. Please include the slot to insert the wire, but don't put wires in because they have to be removed before sterilization. If you don't have wire, no worries; they will be obtained and inserted by others before the masks are delivered.
2. Adult face masks are 9" x 6 " finished (cut fabric 9" square)
3. Two to three layers of fabric is best
4. Use ties rather than elastic, if possible (doctor preference)

Where to Take the Masks When You've Completed Them:

There will be a drop-off box at The Mesa Medical Plaza located at 295 S 1470 E., St. George. Drive to the upper-level parking lot (second level), and after entering the building, turn right at the hallway, and you will see the drop-off box. It will be marked "Mask Drop-Offs." There is no need to enter the doctors' offices, or to come into contact with anyone when you're dropping off the masks.

If you cannot locate the box, or are not comfortable coming into the building, call or text Quinn at 801-540-2155, and he will come out to your car to pick up the masks. Drop-offs can begin immediately.

If you have further questions, please contact Sherry at swsarino@yahoo.com or Sharon at bershaski@aol.com. Thanks to all of you for helping in this effort! We look forward to seeing you all soon.

PERSONAL/CLASSIFIED AD

PRICE REDUCED! Babylock Destiny II Sewing, Quilting, and Embroidery machine, with Bernina Studio Koala Quilting Cabinet. Excellent condition. All original supplies are included. Extras for the Destiny: Tutto 2 X monster sewing machine case on wheels; machine playbook, unopened; Destiny presser foot kit; USB mouse; flexible seam guide with 1/4" foot, extra bobbins, circular sewing attachment, 10-spool thread rack, 1/4" sole, and stitch-in-the-ditch feet for multipurpose foot. Extras for embroidery module: Tutto 28" XL embroidery project bag, continuous border hoop, and 6"x6" and 8"x8" embroidery hoops. Both last serviced on February 17, 2020.

Original prices were $14,000 for the Destiny, $4,500 for the Cabinet, and approximately $2,000 for the extras. I am asking $4,000 for the Destiny (includes extras) and $3,000 for the cabinet. PayPal would be the preferred method of payment.

As these would be too costly to ship, they will be delivered personally to the Southern Utah area. Alternatively, you may pick them up in Cedar City. We could also arrange a place to meet in between. For questions, please call Sharon Schroeder at 909-731-7848. Thank you!

DIXIE QUILT GUILD CHALLENGE 2020

DIXIE QUILT GUILD CHALLENGE 2020

“2020 VISION: FOCUS ON COMING TOGETHER”

Due to the COVID-19 virus

THE CONTEST IS SUSPENDED

We hope you all have started, are in progress, or have finished your 20" x 20" Dixie Quilt Guild Challenge quilt/s. Hang on to it/them.

My mother always said, “There’s nothing so bad that some good doesn’t come from it.” Here is an example of exactly that. If you have been wanting to make a piece to enter but haven’t been able to do so yet, or you have started a piece but have not been able to finish by the April 25th deadline, now is your time to get busy and get one put together!

The continuation of the Quilt Challenge will be announced at a later date. Hopefully, we may have a new deadline and reveal date for this fall, but that has yet to be determined.

SKILLED LONGARM QUILTING SERVICES

I specialize in hand-guided quilting and carry several choices of batting. I work in a pet-free, smoke-free, clean environment. The quilting is priced by the style of your design and the size of your quilt. When I receive your quilt, I will confirm your fee.

I am excited to have your business!

PHILANTHROPY WORKDAYS

Ladies and Gentlemen,

We are in unusual circumstances, with all of our Guild activities curtailed by safety concerns during this current health emergency. We've been trying to figure out how to get our Philanthropy quilts out to you for quilting and piecing and have come up with an idea: home delivery.

We have quite a few kits ready for machine quilting, both long-arm and short-arm/ domestic machine. We will deliver these to your door (not inside) if you are willing to do one for philanthropy.

The short-arm ones can be done easily on a domestic machine using a walking foot or simple free-motion work. This is a good time to practice these skills on a small quilt.

We also have some kits for piecing tops if you are needing or wanting a project.

Please call Margie Black, (435) 668-1659 or Susan Mapston (435) 628-5420 to arrange a delivery if this works for you. Your help is most appreciated.

Looking forward to hearing from you. Stay safe.

Dixie Quilt Guild

P.O. Box 2812

St. George, UT 84771-2812

www.dixiequiltguild.com

The Dixie Quilt Guild encourages, promotes, and preserves the art of quilt making. Through Guild activities, we make friends with others who share our fascination with this art form, add to our knowledge of techniques, improve our skills, find solutions for challenges, and share satisfaction in our accomplishments.

Meetings are held at 10 a.m. on the second Saturday of each month (except July and August) at the Electric Theater in St. George, Utah. Doors open at 9:30 a.m., and members are encouraged to come early to sign up for classes and so forth.

Workshops are held the third Tuesday of most months. Workshops begin at 10 a.m. and offer a time to learn new techniques, work on personal projects, or help with Guild philanthropic projects.

Check out the Guild website: www.dixiequiltguild.com for more information about the many Guild activities.

Our organization of over 300 men and women prides itself on supporting the community in a variety of ways. Members have made quilts for the Dove Center, the Washington Police Department, the Veterans Home, and the Dixie Regional Medical Center, including Palliative Care and the Dialysis Center.

Membership dues of $20 are due on September 1 for the year running from September to the following August. You may join at a Monthly Quilt Guild meeting; by sending your application (found on the website) with a check to the Dixie Quilt Guild, P.O. Box 2812, St. George, UT 84771; or by using PayPal through the secure website. Membership, along with meeting new friends and activities, includes access to the website, workshops, and a newsletter emailed.

Contributions and gifts to the Dixie Quilt Guild are deductible for federal income tax purposes as charitable contributions.

Do you know what is worse than ripping out a whole section?
Ripping it out and then realizing it was done right.
