

Cindy Ogle
"I find knitting very relaxing"

Cindy tells the story of being at lunch one day with a group of longtime friends when Lyneen said, "I'm going to open a quilt shop." It seemed like an unbelievable statement at the time, but the multi-talented Cindy joined the team before the tip was paid.

"Each day brings a new challenge," she says. The staff and customers are so glad she's here as assistant shop manager to help us face them.

She's known to us as a quilter, knitter, cross-stitcher, sewist, and Marti Michel pattern and tool specialist. She's Mimi to Ian, Caroline, Zane, Ainsley, Robert and Darcy, "my six beautiful grandchildren."

Her favorite quote is an adage our staff strives to live by every day: "Treat people like you want to be treated."

Specialties: Quilting, knitting, cross-stitch, sewing. "I also enjoy free motion quilting and any kind of handwork. My newest adventure is quilting on the longarm." She is the staff member that does the quilting for our customers on the HQ Fusion 24.

Favorite fabric: "I love Kansas Troubles fabric. . . and sock yarn!"

I love quilting because "of the finished product, though I find knitting very relaxing."

I can't live without faith, family and knitting.

Best way to spend $30: On anything at Always In Stitches or at a good sale that has lots of yarn and crafts.

My next project: A shop sample.
