

Jennifer Fulton

Jennifer Fulton has been a member of our staff for over 3 years. When she joined us, she was already familiar with our shop as a regular customers and local quilt guild member. She also brought a wealth of experience as a pattern designer, Island Batik Fabrics Ambassador, author of a how to quilt book and online blogger. If you would like to know more about her personal business, you can visit her website “The Inquiring Quilter” at <http://www.inquiringquilter.com/>

Recently we created a new full-time staff position to meet the needs of our growing online, email and phone customers. Jennifer accepted the challenge and has now become our in shop “personal shopper” for our lucky customers. Her quilting knowledge and tenacious personality make her a natural in this position. She fills our online orders with enthusiasm and reaches out to each customer with recommendations to help make their project unique.

We enjoy having her on our team and know our customers appreciate her wealth of knowledge. Next time you place an online order or stop in our shop be sure to say Hi to Jennifer and feel free to ask her a question about all things quilty.
