November 8 th TERRIFIC TUESDAY 9:00

Terrific Tuesday in October

Elaine Snyder shows off a great desert PhD Quilt.

Sandy Shelley really got into the Charity Quilt Sew Days. Here she brings out her Tulip Top, and panel surrounded by pinks and purples. She also made this great "Florida Quilt" with pineapples, flamingos and all things Floridian for a family get together.

Kristie Porter's mother, Glenda Barrick, made these 2 darling baby quilts.

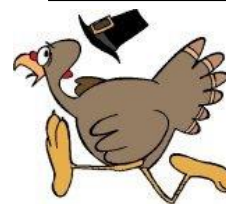

Paco Rich with another colorful Charity Quilt

Jude Casco was in the "Using Up" mode when she made this Charity Quilt.

Jude's "Nightmare Before Christmas" poinsettia quilt was given the Grand Champion Award at this year's Grant County Fair.

What do you call a ghost turkey?

A Poultrygeist.

So if you're Sandy Correa and you have a cabin with beds that need quilts, get out your scraps and get busy.

Got placemats?

Lori Flansburg has been making sets for EVERYONE!!!

What genre do pilgrims listen to?
Plymouth Rock.

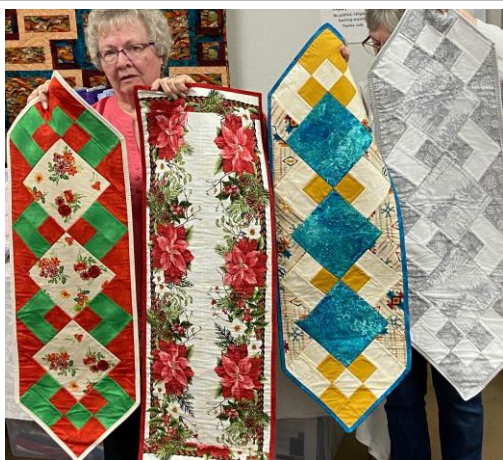

Apparently if you want to marry into Jillyn Dille's family, you have to learn how to quilt – like daughter-in-law, Rachel did.

Some people just have to have COLOR. Julie Gierhart must be one of them with this burgundy kit from Ebay and her 1 Block Wonder that would go with ANY bedroom color.

Jackie Gallagher put together this patriotic quilt for her son. It is fabulous!

Sherrelle Wilkerson has been busy making gifts!

Laura Laney with quilts from a friend's Great Grandmother.

Could be a Jelly Roll Race, could be a bargello. Whatever she decides to call it, this quilt designed by Daun Putnam is a winner!

Daun says, "I have fabric for that" – well, of course she does, she works in a quilt shop!

Lucille Bell is still rescuing fabric from the dog bed donations to make baby quilts.

Whoever is at your table this Thanksgiving, we hope your Blessings are as plentiful as the calories.
