August Salutations!

Summer has surely sped by and Fall is approaching. We have added great fabrics for Autumn and Christmas. I have set an October 7th deadline to accept longarming which must be finished by Christmas.

We are also excited to announce that we will be hosting CHARITY QUILT DAYS on October 7th & 8th. It will be a great time to interact with talented friends, and we always have a great potluck! More information to come.

Enjoy these days, smile often and remember to be kind.

Everyone seems to have enjoyed Jude's Vinyl Bag class. Here are examples of the handy containers from Elaine Snyder, Maria Garcia, Donna Bell and Paula Marka

Changes

You must make the choice to take a chance if you want anything in life to change.

Our summer full-time RVer, Jeanne Gennaro brought in another quilt top showing off her hand-dyed fabric.

And Carol Pickering's Junk Journals just keep showing up – apropos that this one is all about quilting.

People move to Silver from all over, even New Zealand. Beautiful quilting makes us all sisters.

Jude Casco called this JulyPhD "Pretty Hats on Display", , , ok, so it's really a bunch of cats acting like – cats!

Tonie made this quilt for Paco's Goddaughter. It is made from the girls grandmother and moms' clothes.

Paco Rich completed this Memory Quilt, in remembrance of her Aunt Annetta.

A great Quilt of Valor from Dana Gleghorn.

Becky Rea displayed this stunning quilt she made and her sister-in-law Sandi Hudson longarmed.

Julie Gierhart lives out in Buckhorn. She stays busy making gorgeous quilts among other things.

Aren't these grays and
browns yummy?
Paula Marka cut
them from a layer cake.
And then there is the
"Nightmare
Yellow Brick
Road" Somehow a quilt with purples should never be considered a nightmare!

Jackie

beautiful

Quilt of Valor.

Look close,
those middle blocks are Southwestern fabric. Really a fun quilt
with unusual colors.
