"'Tis the last rose of summer,
Left blooming alone;
All her lovely companions
Are faded and gone."

- Thomas Moore,
The Last Rose of Summer, 1830

Happy September to One and All!

Where did the summer go? I do love Fall however, so I am happy!

We will be glad to again be hosting Charity Quilt Sew Days here at the Store on Sept 6th and 7th starting at 9am both days. The quilters in our Community have such huge hearts and make quilts for so many Charities in our area. I salute all of them.

We will also continue our month end sales by having a week-long sale starting Sept 23rd on select Southwest and Flannel prints.

Hope everyone has a super month.

Judy

Orphan Blocks? Look for the new display of our "Orphanage" at the top of the peg board.

September 10th TERRIFIC TUESDAY 9:00

The El Paso Quilters Association is reaching out to give love and QUILTS to the 22 families and first responders involved in the tragic shooting at Walmart. They are asking for our help to make Friendship Star blocks for the quilts. Blocks may be any color, 12 1/2" unfinished. If you would like to help out, please bring your blocks to Aunt Judy's Attic as soon as possible and we will see that they get to El Paso. EPQA is hoping to have all the quilts finished by the beginning of December. If you would like to offer to quilt any of these blocks, please let us know.

AUGUST'S TERRIFIC TUESDAY

We were honored to have two Quilt of Valor presentations at the August Terrific Tuesday on August 13th. Recipients are Thomas Morrish, USMC, accompanied by his wife, and Sam Tarpley, US Navy, with his wife and grandson. The quilts were made by Lequita Lett and quilted by Judy Billings.

Sandy Shelley might resemble Grant County's newest MMA competitor, but she is still just a quilter with "special needs". Here she shares her blue and green chain quilt which Paco Rich quilted for her with frogs.

Purple Tulips from Elva Amerine.

Here is a wonderful example of raw edge applique from Carla Braden.

It wasn't enough for Lequita to present 2 Quilts of Valor, she had to have another one waiting in the wings.

Bonnie Davis has become one of our most prolific Quilt of Valor quilters.

Dona Topmiller's Quilts of Valor are always made with a specific veteran in mind. This one will be very appreciated by its recipient.

Lyn Hawkes and Dana Gleghorn used the same panel but the results were two totally unique quilts.

Here is Lyn Hawkes again with a Drunkard's Path made for her sister. Lyn cut all the pieces in just minutes on the cutter at our shop.

Fay Poudrier used a greeting card as inspiration for this tulip wall hanging. Then, she went WAY BEYOND a Dresden Plate to make this table centerpiece. Little wedges are wonderful!

Can there ever be anything more wonderful than a Purple Quilt?? Dana Gleghorn is the envy of all Purple People.

Periodically, Jude Casco does do something besides Quilts of Valor. This quilt called "Cutting Corners" is for a young man who answers to Grandson...when he feels like it.

So there were petals for Dresden Plates and squares for a 25-patch block. All together, they made one BEEEEUUUTIFUL Opportunity Quilt for the 2020 Quilt Show.
