Issue XLVI
April, 2020

Here's a little song I wrote
You might want to sing it note for note
Don't worry, be happy
In every life we have some trouble
But when you worry you make it double
Don't worry, be happy
Don't worry, be happy now

Smile and Be Happy!

Hi Everyone,

I have decided to take a positive outlook to all the happenings going on around us at this time. In the words of one of my all-time favorite songs, "Don't Worry, Be Happy."

As I'm sure you all know, I have temporarily closed the store. This is out of consideration for my wonderful customers and friends and their health. I am still here quilting daily and do offer drive-up delivery. Call me at 575-388-1620 for more info.

Be safe and consider following my Facebook page, Aunt Judy's Attic. I will be sharing daily what is under my needle and encourage you all to share too.

Love to all!

Judy

TERRIFIC TUESDAY IN MARCH

We LOVE Lydna Wysong's basically 2-toned jelly roll rug.

Her Farm panel quilt with great block borders turned out beautifully, as well.

Those Jelly Roll rugs are showing up everywhere!
Becky Rea explains how she got hers flat.

So here we are again with Marnie Stewart's rug roll and a really cute machine embroidered truck.

Sandy Shelley shows off her latest Quilt of Valor top.

She also finished the quilt which Nelda Brown started for her grandson.

Elaine Snyder's Jelly Roll Race

Big Bright Blocks are set off with Black in Kathy Cole's colorful collection.

Sue Brack took Fay's 9° Ruler class to come up with this 2-toned table runner. And learning to machine embroider with Terri Summers has kept her truckin'

Marjorie Johnson is ready to hit the road with her Blue Print Craftsy travel bag and a tiny purple purse embellished on her embroidery machine.

In 2019, 3 groups of quilters worked through the complicated process of this colorful "Amish With a Twist" BOM. Sherelle Wilkerson has hers finished and ready to gift.

The Gnome is Home at last. Built on top of a water bottle, when you take his hat off, you find a “Sharps” container for those used pins and needles.

The Quilt Guild is doing this 9-Patch block thing every month. Jude Casco got 12 blocks without a clue of what to do with them – so she gave them to Paco - who made this winter table mat – and then gave it back to Jude. Nice job, Paco!!!

Have you ever wondered what to do with a Charm Pack? Jude says, “Make a Market Bag!” It’s bright, it’s fun, and makes a great, quick gift for everyone.

Marnie Stewart started off the 2020 PhDs with 2 dresser scarves – the first made with templates

Nancy Tittman. she of many little pieces, finished up a million to one quilt.

Sandy Shelley with a diamond motif – free motion quilted on her “little machine”.

Elaine Snyder used dimple material to make this kaleidoscope.

So according to Carol Pickering the whole group was supposed to be making Wonky Houses

Daun Putnam’s PhD

Hand embroidered Celtic hearts from Lucille Bell – with some patch work on the sides.

Here’s a fun fact: Judith de Vries-Poiteous, a Canadian on-line follower of Aunt Judy’s Attic, sent in this picture of a great Christmas table runner. We look forward to seeing more of Judith’s PhDs over the year.

PHD #1 COMPLETE

Paco Rich needed trivets for her table – to put which ever way the wind blows. Check out the wonderful quilting!

Spring is sprung
the grass is riz
I wonder where the birdie is.
The bird is on the wing?
How absurd!
I always thought the wing
Was on the bird.
