09:08:12 From Eileen Keane : Woo Hoo!

09:09:06 From Coleen : Good Morning. I didn't get to sleep until 5:30 so I'm not with it yet!

09:09:07 From lindy : Good morning everyone

09:10:14 From Eileen Keane : Good morning!

09:14:35 From Diana McCorkall : embroidery appliqué by way of embroidery machine

09:17:35 From Denise : what's alex's product name you use?

09:19:18 From Dana Doerfler : <https://www.cutterpillar.com/glow-premium>

09:20:11 From Denise : do you know what brand the tweezers are? thanks

09:21:25 From Eileen Keane : I have some medical ones from removing sutures.

09:21:49 From Denise : fuseamax? anyone know? I couldn't see the pic thx

09:22:11 From Marguerita McManus to Dana Doerfler(Privately) : Did you want to record
Kathy?

09:22:33 From Eileen Keane : Carol Doak

09:22:53 From Dana Doerfler to Marguerita McManus(Privately) : Thanks! Completely forgot

09:24:08 From Dana Doerfler to Marguerita McManus(Privately) : too busy trying to direct people to the right meeting invite LOL

09:28:36 From Sue : perfect

09:29:11 From Sheila : Move slower please

09:30:12 From Sue : That's Hospital Sketches. I recognize it

09:32:04 From Eileen Keane : I have it

09:34:32 From Diana McCorkall : I use freezer paper

09:39:27 From Sharon : reminds me of back in the day making software flow charts!

09:40:12 From Diana McCorkall : great job

09:42:06 From Denise : what's treaco? so?

09:42:07 From Denise : sp?

09:42:28 From Denise : what is treeco?

09:42:31 From Eileen Keane : tricot

09:42:54 From Denise : oh tricot!

09:42:57 From Denise : I thought it was a brand

09:43:06 From Denise : you were referring to

09:43:36 From Paula Dornenburg : is there any special technique in working with tiny pieces vs larger pieces that you use?

09:52:33 From Penny : Do you mean forceps to hold small pieces

09:52:59 From jolene mershon : I use Soft Fuse and love it. It's very easy to work with and leaves the fabric soft and flexible. Jolene Mershon

09:53:49 From Eileen Keane : I thought soft fuse was for wool. Thanks for the idea.

09:54:17 From jolene mershon : I use it on wool and cotton. It works beautifully on both.

09:54:57 From Eileen Keane : thanks! I do have some of that

09:55:07 From Paula Dornenburg : does the fusible work better on washed fabric vs unwashed fabric or is there no difference?

09:55:47 From jolene mershon : I've seen no difference. It comes in rolls too. Those are really handy if you're working on a long vine on a border. Jolene

09:55:47 From Pearl Sceviour to Dana Doerfler(Privately) : if she shares her entire desktop (and not a window) this will go away

09:56:23 From Penny : I used the featherlite on bali/batik unwashed fabric and it didn't stick

10:02:04 From Coleen : What is the name of the light box again please?

10:02:16 From Eileen Keane : cutterpillar

10:02:25 From Denise : so what setting would you use on the iron? heat setting?

10:02:39 From Coleen : thanks Eileen

10:03:08 From Eileen Keane : I love mine. I got the see thru cutting pad too.

10:05:38 From Denise : 'see through cutting pad'; never heard of that!

10:05:40 From Denise : sounds cool

10:07:01 From Dana Doerfler : Link to the light box again: <https://www.cutterpillar.com/glow-premium>

10:08:38 From Marguerita McManus to Dana Doerfler(Privately) : Start the video, pause it, then share?

10:09:45 From Anita : I really like that you are working through the video problems and we are helping you. This way we learn each time this happens. Just like we do in applique. It is all good Kathy and thank you Dana for all your help with this process.

10:10:31 From Denise : did you say earlier that you use polyester thread normally?

10:11:25 From Heather Mantz : A coffee filter also works well, in a pinch

10:12:42 From Eileen Keane : Why not just go up the stem?

10:13:48 From Eileen Keane : You don't bring your bobbin thread to the top?

10:14:05 From Penny : What needle are you using?

10:15:56 From Eileen Keane : Is it the heat of the needle that makes the glue stop working?

10:17:45 From Denise : I notice the edge of this background piece has stitching all around it; do you always do that?

10:17:50 From Anita : what is your stitch length and width?

10:20:20 From Eileen Keane : Do you ever rotate the handwheel to get to the point?

10:26:19 From Diana McCorkall : good tip with the serger

10:28:51 From Coleen : If you don't have a serger you can use an overlock stitch on your machine

10:29:17 From Eileen Keane : Thanks. I don't need another machine!

10:29:29 From Pearl Sceviour : I use a pinking blade in a rotary cutter to minimize fraying on the background fabric

10:33:49 From Eileen Keane : Seam allowance size?

10:33:58 From Eileen Keane : allowance

10:38:32 From Denise : do you ever NOT use the glue; and just 'wing it'? and turn under as you go?

10:39:51 From Denise : do most people here glue or wing it?

10:40:05 From Denise : wing it!

10:40:15 From Denise : just crazy

10:40:17 From Denise : or lazy

10:40:21 From jolene mershon : Glue it for sure. Jolene

10:41:02 From Denise : I didn't even know anything about glue until I already began appliqueing

10:42:40 From Katherine Dunigan's iPhone : love this colorful block!

10:43:24 From Denise : I will!

10:43:26 From Denise : thanks:)

10:45:18 From Eileen Keane : What do you use in the bobbin with the clear thread?

10:46:00 From Nancy : what stich number?

10:47:40 From Eileen Keane : Since you've done both raw and prepped edge, which do you prefer?

10:47:48 From jolene mershon : What brand of invisible thread do you use? Jolene

10:51:54 From Laura : What thread do you have in the bobbin?

10:57:25 From Al Summerford : You can use Teflon washers from the hardware store, and do a LOT at once if you choose.

10:57:28 From Denise : I meant to say earlier: I don't use glue for hand applique; but do you use glue with hand applique also? Or the glue with just machine applique?

10:57:50 From Sharon to Dana Doerfler(Privately) : Dana - if we have to step away would you prefer we leave the meeting and rejoin or leave it logged in? I need to get my dog out for a walk before the rain comes - he is a crazy little rescue who NEEDS to be walked every day or we are in for a long night!

10:58:28 From Dana Doerfler to Sharon(Privately) : You can do either one - I will be watching to let you back in if you want to drop off

10:58:36 From Sharon to Dana Doerfler(Privately) : thanks!

10:59:03 From Denise :
If you're doing a plant or something; and so there's lots of stems, and all the stems go to different flowers, etc, how do you prepare the stem for applique? What did you say earlier? Do you do try to cut the whole thing out as one piece, or a few pieces, or a bunch of little pieces.

10:59:56 From Sheila : Is it not in your file folder, but on the computer? Could you search for it?

11:02:57 From jolene mershon : I put Freezer paper on a board to use as a gluing surface. Can remove and throw away as needed. Jolene

11:05:35 From jolene mershon : thank you so much. Good presentation. Jolene
