Smocked Rotary Cutter Bag by Vaune Pierce

This project is a Rotary Cutter Bag. With a little smocking and a little construction, you will have a lined, zippered bag to carry your rotary cutter, a used blade canister, and it even has a pocket to hold spare blades!

The smocking for this project includes some smocking stitches that are not used in most smocking plates. They are not difficult, and I will give you tips on how to stitch them so that the result is even, full, untwisted stitches.

The Turret Stitch, a crossover Trellis Stitch, and Bars are the 3 stitches that we will be working on this design. I will contact you prior to class for color information for floss.
