

GRANT HOUSE
Sewing Machines and more.

First of all, Happy Thanksgiving!

We are so thankful for You!

We've all been through so much in the past year: our store expansion, a continuing pandemic, new staff, plans for the future "pivoting" continually. But through it all, we've had each other and it has helped us through our ups and our downs,

So, Thank You.

From all of us here at Grant House Sewing Machines.

And have a safe, warm, and happy Thanksgiving.

We will be closed on Thursday, November 26th.

Next, how would you like to get 20% off?

Bring in a toy, unwrapped in it's original packaging, and we will give you 20% off your entire purchase (excluding sewing machines and furniture). The toys we collect through the Toys For Tots campaign will stay in our community and will be distributed to low-income needy children through the Unity Shoppe, Inc.

We will also have a donation jar near the register for anyone wishing to make a donation, in memory of Barbara Tellefson, the founder of Unity Shoppe who passed away Sunday. She leaves a big hole in the community and in our hearts. All proceeds will go to the Unity Shoppe.

Get ready. We're going to have a class!

JOY!

The picture doesn't do it justice. Silver metallic candlewicking flows between the two embroidered halves of a letter. Using the "on trend" colors for the 2020 holiday season, the Joy pennant is created on a deep blue "Grunge" with Silver, White and Aqua thread. The binding is shimmery white fabric. It's beautiful. And you can make it!

The uber-talented Jane Connor created the inspiration for this last year with her "Merry Christmas" banner. We're in love with it! This is just a preview of exciting things to come!

This project can be completed entirely in the hoop, just add the binding! This will be an on-line class so jump in for your "seat" right away. The class is scheduled for December 12, 2020 at 3:00 pm to 6pm (ish). $25.00. Sign up at Have.FunSewing.com! A materials list will be sent after you've signed up.
