

Over the Hill: Patriot

Chart 9136

The original printing of this chart contains a couple of errors.

Guacamole is listed in the symbol key, but it is not used. If you have already purchased this color, please be assured that it is used in several of the other charts in the Over the Hill series. I failed to omit it from this list.

A couple of back and straight stitches were not specified in the instructions. You may be able to tell the color based on the photo, but just in case:

The swirls in the sky are backed stitched with Rye.

The straight lines emanating from the sparklers are Snow White (only the sparkler stick is Dark Shadows.)

I'm so sorry for the inconvenience. I really do try to make my charts and packs perfect, but I failed to on this one. Please accept my apology.
