

My name is Cheryl Travis. I grew up in a small town in central Pennsylvania, but have been living in Bel Air for over 23 years.

I have a Bachelors degree in Biology from Mansfield State College and I am a proud Army Veteran. I worked at Walter Reed Army Institute of Research while in the Army.

My first experience with quilting was in the early 80's when I took a class to learn how to make the cathedral window block and also learned how to fabric stencil. I finally took a proper beginning quilting class where I learned how to do everything from drafting blocks to quilting the blocks. I was definitely hooked on quilting from then on.

I have been a crafter all my life, but quilting is my passion. I have over 22 years of experience teaching quilting and other crafts. I taught beginning and intermediate quilting classes for over 14 years at the Bel Air and Aberdeen Senior Centers. I absolutely love teaching beginners and enjoy teaching all types of quilting techniques.

Hope to see you in one of my classes!
