

Patricia Hersl
Quilting with a Hon

Biography

A true Baltimore "hon," Pat believes that quilting is fun and that's what she teaches. Her specialty is getting beginners off to a good, solid start with a smile on their face. A former paralegal and Realtor, Pat's world has been beautified by cotton and she shares that love with her students. Since her artistic talents are limited, she concentrates on preserving the patterns of others in her own work, both in her favorite appliqué and in piecing. She has designed her classes so that even a first-timer can get fantastic results. She teaches the skills knowing that the art will follow. And it's all done with care and humor. Pat has been married to a tall Tom Cruise look-alike for over 40 years and they are currently enjoying their granddaughters. Lately, Pat's sewing for those girls and sharing her stitching on the road.
