C. Insa Riepen – October Harvest Fest

Insa was here representing Recycle Utah. The October harvest fest has been hosted at the High Star Ranch. This is the last year the High Star Ranch will host the event. People in the community have suggested the Oakley Recreation Complex. Insa explained all the different booths and where their money came from.

Mayor Woolstenhulme asked if they sold alcohol at the event. Insa indicated that they had a beer garden. The Mayor stated that all of our facilities are alcohol free.

Insa asked the Council to come and see the event being held this year, before they made a final decision. The Council will try to attend the event and get back to her with a decision.

4. Old Business

A. Rodeo and Celebration Review.

Sue Woolstenhulme gave a very detailed explanation of expenditures, items sold, items lost and items given away. They have ideas to make improvements for the 2016 concessions. They felt overall everything went really smooth.

Shanna Atkinson and Amanda Sorenson gave an overview of the parade. Their biggest challenge was finding a place to unload the parade participants. Parking for the horse trailers was also hard. They also suggested that a sign announcing the road closures a few days in advance would help parade participants and spectators.

Gerald Young came representing the Rodeo Committee. He felt the 80th annual Rodeo was a success. There were only about 5 or 6 no shows each night. The barrel man just barely made it, so he wasn't quite at his best. The sponsorships totaled almost $100,000.00.

Councilor Hoggan stated the breakfast was successful and that she had to use some of the leftovers from the Cowboy breakfast. For the Patriotic Program they had to get more chairs from the Cattlemen's Hall. The Council asked Tami to order 160 more chairs and 2 chair racks.
