After months and months of work, I'm proud to say our new web site is up and operational. Please go take a look. The entire line of canvases we have in stock is shown and can be purchased ON LINE! That's right, you can shop Park Avenue Needlepoint from the comfort of your own home.

Although our huge stock of threads are not listed, we'll be glad to pull them for any canvas you buy and ship the entire project to you. If we don't have a design you're looking for in stock, visit our Designer page. We can order any canvas you find through any of the designer links. And for inspiration, look at the Finishing page where you'll see a gallery of beautifully completed projects. Other information includes a list of current classes and canvas clubs, a sale page and a blog! I've also added links to Park Avenue's Facebook page, Pinterest page and Instagram account. We have arrived in the world of digital needlepoint! Come see us.
