

JUNE 2019 SUMMER CHALLENGE

We are planning a row quilt for the Summer Challenge. They are lots of fun and geared to any skill level. We hope everyone can join in to make it very successful!
Here are the guidelines:

- ~Gather the fabrics you want to use for blocks and background. Its hard to know the exact yardage required so be generous. If you like scrappy, it works well.
 - ~Make your first row of blocks and sew them together. Their size and style can influence those who follow you. So start with what you like!
 - ~Find a suitable container to store this project for easy passing to your next team member. Include a small notebook with your name and phone number and any notes you wish to pass along.
 - ~ The size of blocks you choose for your first row starts to determine the quilts' size. For example: 5 - 9" finished blocks across would make a 45-1/2" wide row. When its your turn to add a row you can use other sized blocks. Just add a sashing or filler strips to achieve the length needed. The asymmetrical rows are so eye catching! Thats the fun of a row quilt! Be creative!
 - ~Your Summer Challenge is to complete your first row of blocks. Then get everything together and bring to the first meeting on September 4th.
 - ~We are asking you to sign up now so we can assign the teams by the June 5th meeting. Again your first row is not due until Sept. 4th.
- Subsequent pass dates will be the first meeting of every month:
Oct. 2nd - Nov. 6th - Jan. 8th - Feb. 5th and possibly Mar. 4th if we have enough.
We will take off in December.

_____ The Row Quilt Challenge sounds like fun. Count me in!

_____ I understand that in order for this to be successful I need to make one row of blocks once a month, for the next member on my team. The size and style are my choice. We know things can happen, but for now I am committing and want to be in on the fun!
