CLASSES PRESENTED BY HANDI QUILTER NATIONAL EDUCATOR LORETTA MORRIS

Loretta's first experience with a sewing machine was in junior high where she made a pair of powder blue corduroy overalls. She didn't touch a sewing machine for the next 10 years or so, until her mother-in-law gave her a sewing machine as a gift, and she thought, "What am I going to do with this?" She began making clothes for her children, and then for herself. Next she ventured into rag doll making, selling those dolls at craft shows, and teaching at her local quilt shop. It was there that she laid her eyes on a quilt that she just had to make. She talked the maker of that quilt into teaching a class, and so began her love of Quilts.

Loretta started doing her own quilting on a HQ Sweet Sixteen® and graduated to the Amara® with Pro-Stitcher® 5 years later. She has enjoyed teaching others the love of quilting ever since. She loves art quilting as well as traditional quilting, and combining free motion, ruler work and Pro-Stitcher to create custom quilting.
