

For certain products, the price won't print on the barcode label, even though I told it to print price and description.

This happens for some unknown reason on some products. It has something to do with the item's description. The easiest way to overcome this issue is to simply change the item's description slightly. Even something as simple as adding or removing one character should fix it.