Kaye's Mitered Binding Technique used in her Galaxy EPattern, FREE this month!

Kaye's Mitered Binding Technique
 ©1984

1. Cut 6 binding strips 1 3/4" wide. Sew the strips into one long binding strip.
2. Press the long binding strip in half lengthwise, wrong sides together.
3. Sew the binding to the front of the quilt, using a 1/4" seam allowance. Leave a 6" tail at the beginning and start sewing on one side of the quilt—never at a corner.
4. Miter each corner following the diagrams on this page.

5. After mitering the last corner, sew to about 6" from the beginning of the binding. Overlap the beginning and end of the strip. Fold and crease the ends of the strips on the diagonal.
6. Sew the ends together along this diagonal crease. Trim the excess binding in the seam allowance. Finish sewing the binding.
7. Bring the binding to the back of the quilt, mitering the corners.
8. Hand stitch the binding on the back of the quilt.

Everything You Need to Know About Quilting in the Hoop

By Marjorie Busby

You don't need a longarm quilting machine to finish your quilt — stitch it with an embroidery machine instead! By quilting in the hoop, you can create quilts block by block, in long strips or stitch 'em whole. And with all the options your embroidery machine has, you can make quilts as simple or complex as you want.

On the Homestead...

And we are expecting RAIN this afternoon! You know, like liquid snow? It's been about 6 months since I've seen rain and I will welcome it.

Rain knocks down the snow like no tomorrow and also helps take the frost out of the ground (where the ground is even visible, which it isn't yet).

My ducks love the rain and I love watching them splash and splatter and quack and play in the puddles. They are so fun to watch. I will break out my incubator in another couple of weeks and maybe hatch out another batch of ducks.

28 days they take. It's too soon yet, they'd have to live in the bathtub for awhile and... no. Just no.

The greenhouses are filling with green and I can't hardly wait to get out in the garden (still under at least 1.5 feet of snow) and get stuff planted. And I can't help myself, I need to start more seeds. This time broccoli, cabbage, brussels sprouts, more onions and peppers. LOVE IT!

This week's puzzle!
