Guiding You To Beautiful Quilts

I stitched my first quilt more than fifteen years ago when my sister invited me to a mystery quilt weekend. I have not looked back since!! I have completed numerous quilts and began teaching friends and acquaintances how to quilt ten years ago while living in New Jersey. My intense love of quilting is infectious and I have led many novices and beginners in weekly quilting classes while living in New Jersey, and have continued these efforts since moving to New Hampshire in 2008.

My love of dramatic colors and bold tones are evident in my everyday life. I was naturally drawn to the Judy Niemeyer quilts when I first saw them. My first Judy Niemeyer quilt was the Hawaiian Star and since then I have completed Tropical Sundance, Drunkard's Wave, Sunflower Illusions, Celtic Wave, Forever Yours, Desert Sky, Glacier Star and Mariner's Compass, just to name a few. To view my full portfolio visit www.CompassPointQuilts.com. There are always multiple "Judy" quilts in various stages being worked on in my studio. This experience gives me a complete command of all the major quilting techniques used to create Judy Niemeyer quilts.

My love for this art form pushed me to apply to Quiltworx to become a certified quilt instructor. I continue to learn the new Quiltworx patterns and techniques to maintain my instructor certification along with learning new ideas, processes and shortcuts to share with other quilters.

My love for quilting, and my easy going, friendly personality is ideal for beginning quilters as they learn the Quiltworx quilting techniques. I also have the depth of quilting experience to bring experienced quilters further along in their quilting journey. I have more than fifteen years classroom education experience working in public school systems which gives me a strong background in breaking down the more complex quilting techniques into easy to understand steps.

In October 2013, I attended a Master's Class with Jacqueline de Jonge, quilt designer and owner of BeColourful from The Netherlands. During this master's class my love of vivid color, which Jacqueline uses in many of her quilts, was ignited. The paper piecing and construction techniques Jacqueline taught were ingenious and fit right into my teaching toolbox. Once again, my love of teaching and sharing information lead me to approach Jacqueline and BeColourful about teaching for them here in the United States. In late December 2013, I was given authorization to teach on behalf of Jacqueline and BeColourful throughout the Northeastern US.

I am the owner of Compass Point Quilts & CPQ Studio, which focuses on teaching the Judy Niemeyer & BeColourful quilt patterns, and can be described as an enthusiast of this art form. I am a member of the Merrimack Valley Quilt Guild; Seabreeze Quilt Guild; The New England Quilt Museum and NH State Quilters Association. My geographic focus is the New England region, but I am available as needed to travel and teach anywhere in the United States.
