Did you know that Halloween is 51 days away, Thanksgiving is 78 days away, and Christmas is 106 days away. Where did this year go? Personally, I am looking forward to fall colors, cooler days, and all things pumpkin spice. I love to wrap up in a quilted blanket and feel the warmth of it. What about you? Do you enjoy sharing your projects with family? With the holiday season approaching, what projects do you need assistance with? Here at Something For You, our goal is to assist you with all of your quilting needs. If you don't find what you are looking for as you browse our store (either in person or online), please stop by or drop us a note and let us see what we can find for you!
