

January Newsletter

Have you seen the Facebook post that states "I'm still in my 7 day free trial, and I'm not enjoying 2021. I'd like to return it!". We certainly hope that the start of 2021 has been better than 2020 in its entirety! As we review 2020 and approach 2021, we are seeking your feedback on what we can offer with regard to classes. As COVID does make these types of opportunities a little more challenging, what are you interested in? Do you have the ability to teach a new quilting technique? Are there quilting styles that you would like to learn? Please stop in to see us and let us know your thoughts.

We are excited to share some new fabric that have recently arrived at the store. Our first collection we would like to highlight include some new Batiks.

Down on the Farm Panel

This fabric collection designed by Doodlebug Designs for Riley Blake Designs is called "Down on the Farm". This will provide "acres" of fun for your little farmer as they are inspired to imagine life on the farm. These adorable horses, pigs, chickens, cows, and sheep playfully romp around the barnyard.

I have to tell you that these two fabrics choices have got to be some of my personal favorites! This reminds me of many years ago when we would go visit Grandma on the farm and play hide and seek around the barn. I remember looking over the fields and watching the crops wave in the wind.
