k: knit

p: purl

mc: Main Color (ochre)

cc1: Contrasting Color (Lion)

cc2: Contrasting Color 2 (Blue)

Cast on 120 stitches in mc. place 1 marker to keep track of your round. Join for round.

Rows 1-15: k1p1: in mc Break yarn and change colors using a jog-less striping method of your choice.

Rows 16-30: k1p1 in cc1 change colors as above.

Rows 31-45: k1p1 in cc2 Change colors as above.

Rows 46: k1p1 in cc1, do not break yarn as it will be carried along for this section of the cowl while continuing to use the jog-less striping method to alternate yarn color on each row

Row 47: k1p1 in mc without breaking yarn, drop this yarn and pick up cc2.

Row 48: k1p1 in cc2.

Rows 49-95 Repeat rounds 46-48 alternating each yarn shade on each round.

Row 96: continuing to use cc2 k1p1 around. cut cc2 leaving a tail. Pick up cc1.

Row 97-108: k1p1 in cc1. drop but do not cut yarn.

Row 109: pick up mc and k1p1 around. Drop mc and pick up cc1.

Row 110: k1p1 in cc1 around.

Rows 111-119: repeat rounds 109 and 110 alternating yarns and using the jog-less stripe method to alternate colors neatly.

Row 120: bind off loosely.

Finishing: hide ends. Cowl can be worn loosely around the neck or as a hat. Place cowl on your head with the wrong side out. Holding the top edge pull and twist the tube while folding into a second layer down over your head. This forms a double layered hat that is extra warm.
