Mindful Making

Mindful making through handcraft work can be a deeply fulfilling and therapeutic practice. It involves engaging in creative activities with intention and awareness, allowing you to focus on the present moment and cultivate a sense of mindfulness. Here are some ways handcraft work can promote mindfulness:

1. Focus and Concentration: When you engage in handcraft work, such as knitting, crochet, or embroidery, you enter a state of flow where your attention is fully absorbed in the task at hand. This focused concentration helps quiet the mind and allows you to be present in the moment, promoting a sense of mindfulness.
2. Sensory Awareness: Handcraft work often involves tactile experiences, such as feeling the texture of yarn or fabric, the weight of a needle, or the movement of your hands. Paying attention to these sensory experiences enhances your awareness of the present moment and deepens your connection with the materials and process.
3. Slow and Steady Pace: Many handcraft projects require patience and a slower pace. This slower rhythm allows you to savor each stitch, knot, or stroke, enabling you to slow down and be fully present. The repetitive nature of handcraft work can be meditative, soothing the mind and bringing a sense of calm.
4. Creative Expression: Handcraft work provides an outlet for creative expression, allowing you to bring your ideas and imagination to life. By focusing on the creative process, you can let go of worries and distractions, immersing yourself in the act of making and experiencing the joy of creating something with your own hands.
5. Mind-Body Connection: Engaging in handcraft work can help you connect your mind and body. As you manipulate materials and engage in intricate movements, you become more attuned to the sensations and movements of your body. This embodied awareness can deepen your mindfulness practice.

Overall, handcraft work can be a mindful and grounding practice, allowing you to find peace and clarity in the present moment. It offers an opportunity to slow down, engage your senses, and cultivate a sense of creativity and well-being. Whether it's knitting, sewing, painting, or any other form of handcraft, the process itself can become a form of meditation and self-expression.

Handcraft kits are a fantastic way to get started with various crafts without the hassle of gathering all the materials individually. If you're interested in embroidery, cross-stitch, macramé, or needle punch, there are many kits available that provide everything you need to complete your projects.

Are you planning to join our next Sip and Sew at Firefly Cellars? These kits would be perfect if you still need to get a project. We will have them at the event for sale as well.

SPLASH FABRIC
LAMINATED COTTON & GOODS
Magic Fabric

Splash Fabric is here!

We received a few bolts of Splash Fabric this week. This is NOT your Grandma's Oil Cloth. Splash Fabric loves creating quality, innovative fabrics. In 2013, they discovered laminated cotton - truly magical stuff that is lightyears ahead of oilcloth but offers the same colorful and quirky vibe. It's eco-friendly, biodegradable, kid-safe, 100% cotton with a water-based polyurethane coating. You have to come to touch this for yourself.

Here's how this laminate cotton really excels compared to oilcloth:

- Ecofriendly and Biodegradable
- Food Safe
- Consumer Healthy
- Pliable and buttery soft
- High heat resistance
- Washable and, if necessary ironable.

We started with four prints and are excited to hear your feedback before we order more prints. Sydney made a reversible bowl. It was fast and easy. The Splash Fabric website has a number of free patterns.

Scalloped Hills by Cori Dantini for FreeSpirit

The rolling wheat fields of the Palouse inspired this collection. The Palouse is a magical place nestled in the bottom southeast corner of Washington State. Think upon gentle hills covered in tall green, flowing grass which grows into beautiful golden wheat stalks come August. Eventually, these hills roll into a beautiful white frost all winter. The Palouse is enchanting and Cori wanted to share that with the world in her own way. These 24 vibrant blenders will add a touch of texture to any project. Scalloped Hills - 2 has arrived. These 12 additional colors complete the collection for a total of 24 fabrics. Order these new prints in fat quarter or half-yard bundles.

Row by Row has started and runs from June 1 - August 31, 2023. We created two designs that are available for purchase in-store and online.

- Sew I Wine celebrates Loudoun County. On our drive to the store, we pass cows and numerous vineyards, so this plate depicts those views.

- Surf the Web celebrates the long history of Webfabrics as an online business. We wanted to keep the summer theme and include our cow in both designs.

Kits can be ordered online or picked up in-store. License plates are available in two sizes; 4" x 7" and a mini which is 2" x 4". Both designs have an optional panel for purchase. Sew I Wine's panel is a little license plate for the tractor and a barn quilt for the barn. Surf the Webs panel is the computer screen.
