Seven Easy and Refreshing Home Detox Tips to Start the New Year

From the Optimist Daily: "Your house can be a springboard to greater things if you're striving for a new level of success, innovation, or expansion in your life— something many of us are aiming for especially at the beginning of the New Year. According to the ancient Chinese practice of feng shui, all riches and progress begin at home with light, flowing, harmonious energy.

One of the most practical ways to maintain a high level of energy around you is to perform a simple "home detox," which involves removing pollutants from your living space. Allergens, dust, mold, and bacteria that collect in your home can be irritating, and they drain your home's energy. According to designer and feng shui master Dana Claudat the following basic detox tips can help elevate any home environment."

Inspiration

Shawl with Surprise Hood

It's going to be a cold one this week, but we've found a fun and toasty project to keep you warm. Thanks to Janome.com and Janome Maker, Vivien Lee.

Here's what she says about what inspired her:

"Winter is here and I wanted a cute and cozy accessory that was a nice shawl, but also a surprise hood and scarf! I made this out of a wool knit jersey but other soft fabrics with a bit of drape would work as well. I added some pompom trim for whimsy but that is optional; this surprise hood would work well untrimmed, or finished with decorative stitching or other touches. This was inspired by Victorian mantelets with front lappets, knit sontags, chic old Hollywood head scarves, and modern cozy."

Skill Level: Intermediate
